P R E F A C E .

THE following pages contain a selection from the Genealogical Notes made by my uncle, NATHANIEL GOODWIN, from time to time after his appointment to the office of Judge of Probate for the district of Hartford, in 1833, and prepared for publication by him during the last three or four of the latter years of his life. They were not designed by him to be complete genealogies even of the families which are treated of, but, as the title indicates, genealogical notes to assist others in tracing out their family histories. Mr. Goodwin had begun to print the work, making his final corrections as the proof-sheets were brought to him, and had proceeded as far as page 68, when the printing was suspended, as he hoped temporarily, by a severe attack of disease, but as the event proved, finally, so far as he was concerned, by his death. At his request, made a few days before his death, and the desire of his executors, the manuscripts were placed in the hands of HENRY BARNARD, LL. D., President of the Connecticut Historical Society, who had rendered my uncle similar aid in his former publications, to see through the press; but the pressure of his engagements obliged him, after the supervision of some fifty pages, to relinquish all further care of the work, beyond preparing a memoir of the author's life, and the immediate charge of the publication devolved on CHARLES J. HOADLY, Esq., late Librarian of Trinity College, and now State Librarian.

It is difficult for one man to enter into the labors of another in matters of this kind, and to harmonize memoranda differing sometimes in date and substance with regard to the same facts, particularly when the original sources whence the information was gathered are not indicated. Probably many of the blanks in the following genealogies would have been filled out, had Mr. Goodwin lived to finish the work himself, but no pains have been spared, to supply missing dates from the large mass of manuscript notes left by my uncle, and to add some from other reliable sources.

The undersigned would, in conclusion, express his thanks, and the thanks, he doubts not, of many others interested in inquiries of this sort, to both of the gentlemen above named, for their coöperation in carrying this work through the press, as another, although imperfect, contribution to this department of literature, from one who had devoted many years to its preparation.

DANIEL GOODWIN.

MEMOIR

NATHANIEL GOODWIN.

NATHANIEL GOODWIN,—whose accurate contributions to the genealogical literature of New England entitle him to an honorable remembrance, not only among professed antiquarians, but by all who desire to see the restless habits of our people corrected by a stronger infusion of family and local attachments, which genealogical studies are calculated to foster—was born in Hartford, Connecticut, on the 5th of March, 1782; the youngest child of Nathaniel Goodwin, and Anna [Sheldon] Goodwin, the daughter of Deacon Isaac Sheldon.

His ancestor on the father's side, was of the old New England Puritan stock—the names of the brothers William and Ozias Goodwin, being inscribed* on the stone monument erected to the memory of the early settlers of Hartford, in the ancient burying-ground of the First Church in Connecticut, where Mr. Thomas Hooker, “the light of the Western Churches,” first ministered; Ozias Goodwin, and his elder brother William Goodwin, were of that “goodly company” of men, women, and children, who in June, 1635 or 1636, left Newtown, New Cambridge, and other settlements in the seaboard of Massachusetts, to plant a new colony on the “delightful banks” of the Connecticut. Mr. William Goodwin was a man of mark in his day. He was admitted a freeman of Massachusetts, at Cambridge, in November, 1682, and was a member of the first General Court in that province at which delegates attended, held in May, 1634. Gov. Winthrop in his journal speaks of him as "a very reverend and godly man, being an elder in the congregation of Newtown"—in Cambridge. In 1636, he was commissioned with Mr. Samuel Stone, to negotiate for the grant of the land where Hartford now stands, from Sunckquasson, Sachem of Suckiauge, and grand proprietor of the lands of this region. He was one of the trustees of Gov. Hopkins' will—and in the dissensions about church membership, baptism, and discipline which convulsed the church of Hartford and Wethersfield, in 1659, he sided with the Rev. Mr. Russell, of the church at the latter place; and with Gov. Webster, Mr. Whiting, Mr. Culick, Mr. Barnard and others, removed to Hadley, and founded there a church of which he became ruling elder, as he had previously been in the church at Hartford. He subsequently removed to Farmington, where he died in 1673, leaving one daughter who married John Crow, of Hartford. Mr. Goodwin's homestead, in the original distribution of the town of Hartford among the settlers, in 1639, embraced three acres—"abutting on the highway, lying at the North side of the Riveret, leading from the palisado to Sentinel Hill"—and included the site on which Wadsworth Atheneum, with the Library of the Connecticut Historical Society, now stands.

Mr. Ozias Goodwin did not sympathize with his brother in his peculiar views as to church membership, and discipline, so far as to feel constrained to go out from his brethren in the church at Hartford, but continued to reside there, where he became the progenitor* of most of the name now in this section of the State. His home-lot was located on the west side of what is now Trumbull street, and on both sides of Church street as since laid out.

Nathaniel Goodwin, the father of the subject of this memoir, was a merchant in Hartford, and died in 1782, a few weeks before this son was born. The children were placed under the guardianship of Capt. Ebenezer Barnard, at that time a resident of Berlin, but who afterwards removed to Hartford, where he died in 1827. The guardian appears to have aimed to secure a good education for his wards—both Nathaniel and his older brother James, having been sent to the Academy at Plainfield, at that time second to none other in Connecticut. From a specimen copy, executed by young Goodwin, and dated April 30, 1792, we should judge that the scholars of that school made one valuable acquisition—that of a handwriting, which has even now, the rare merit of legibility.

After leaving school, Nathaniel served an apprenticeship in the art of printing; for two years with Mr. Obrient, in New Haven, and for three in the office of Charles R. and George Webster, in Albany. From a letter written by E. W. Skinner, Esq., Librarian of the New York State Library, dated Albany, April 17, 1856, and who was an apprentice in the same office at the time, it appears that Mr. Goodwin exhibited early in youth those traits of character and manners which distinguished him in after life. "During his residence in this city, he was diligent, exemplary and faithful in the discharge of all his duties; kind and affectionate to his associates, and respectful and obedient to his instructors. His habits were good, and seemed based upon fixed moral principle. Practical good sense was predominant in his character, assisted and aided by study and observation. He was plain and unostentatious, and somewhat antiquated in manner and habit; so much so, indeed, was this peculiarity observable, as to give to him the appearance of more mature age. Yet there were times in which he would indulge in mirthful sports and playfulness of mind; and particularly in manly adventure and ingenious strategy."

On leaving the Messrs. Webster in 1803, they addressed to his guardian a kind letter, from which the following passages are taken.

"Your ward Nathaniel Goodwin, had previously given us notice, that his apprenticeship would expire on the 5th day of the present month; and that he had been requested by Mr. Barber, to enter into his employment as foreman or superintendent of his printing office, at very handsome wages. To this we most cheerfully give our approbation, as we have no urgent business, and Mr. Barber is very much pressed in getting forward the journal of the legislature and other public printing.

"We embrace this occasion, Sir, to acquaint you how perfectly satisfied we have been with the general good conduct and demeanor of N. Goodwin while with us, and that in our opinion this conduct is indicative of intrinsic goodness of heart, and evidences in a perspicuous manner how anxious he has been, by a suitable and becoming behavior toward us, to render his amiable mother happy and give entire satisfaction to his respected guardian.

"Permit us to add, (and we feel a pleasure in doing it,) that he leaves us a master of the art of printing—acquired by assiduous attention to business during his apprenticeship—a young man of handsome talent, pleasing manners, and correct morality. That his future life may be happy and prosperous is our most sincere prayer."

For this gratifying exhibition of conduct and character, much is due to the watchful interest taken by his guardian, Capt. Barnard, in the moral and intellectual improvement of his ward. His letters addressed to him while at Plainfield and Albany, are full of urgent and judicious advice as to the employment of his time and the formation of good habits.

"So important do I deem a right improvement of your time and talents, that you must accept from me a frequent repetition of advice on these points. * * Let my years and experience, as well as duty and inclination advise you, not to be deterred by rain, nor snow, nor hail, nor wind, nor frown, nor flattery, nor false amusements, nor ideal pleasures, for a day, from laying a virtuous foundation in youth on a rock which can not be shaken." "Yours is the seed-time of life, if you sleep now, you can have no harvest." "Practice beneficence, resolution, perseverance, and self-denial. Fly from the vices you are inclined to, and hold fast to the virtues you would make your own."

Mr. Goodwin did not pursue the business of printing, for which he had served an apprenticeship, but devoted himself to teaching and occasionally to commerce, in connection with his brother James. In 1814 he was appointed deputy collector of the revenue for the fourth collection district of Connecticut; and in 1833 received a commission from the Surveyor General of Connecticut, as deputy surveyor for Hartford county. He had been for years a practical land surveyor, which he had mastered by himself; and had assisted Mr. Daniel St. John in making a survey and map of the city of Hartford, which was published in 1824.

Mr. Goodwin held many important public trusts, which he discharged with exemplary fidelity and to the universal acceptance of his fellow-citizens. He was elected Treasurer of the City of Hartford, in March, 1818, and annually thereafter for thirty-five years, till April, 1853, when he declined a re-election. In 1835 he was elected Town Treasurer, and held the office till he declined a re-nomination in 1854; and in 1833 he was appointed County Treasurer, and held the office till 1854, when he resigned the place, and declined all further appointments. From 1832 to 1833, he held the office of Judge of Probate for the probate district of Hartford, and for several years afterwards served as clerk; and in addition to the regular duties of the office, he performed a great public service in arranging, and classifying the papers of the office, in making out full alphabetical indexes, and in copying out partially obliterated pages, and other ways contributing to the preservation and convenient consultation of these important documents. In the mean time and from a very early period, he had been employed as administrator in settling intestate estates, until probably no individual in the community had had so much to do with the business of the probate office, and with the city, town and county records. He was thus prepared for the prosecution of genealogical inquiries, and it is to be regretted that he did not at an earlier day, determine on preparing his memoranda of individual and family histories for publication.

In 1845 he published in pamphlet form his first contribution to genealogical literature, under the title of the "Descendants of Thomas Olcott, one of the first settlers of Hartford," which he dedicated to the Connecticut Historical Society. In 1849, he published "The Foote Family: or the Descendants of Nathaniel Foote, one of the first settlers of Wethersfield." And from the date of the last publication projected the plan of a series of works of a similar character, in connection with a history of the towns of Hartford, Wethersfield, and Windsor, in the preparation of which the author of this memoir was to be associated, as he had previously been in preparing the introduction and notes to the above mentioned genealogies. Warned by some premonitory symptoms of a serious malady, which might terminate his labors before the history could be prepared, he determined on making a selection from his memoranda, and publishing them under the title of "GENEALOGICAL NOTES, or CONTRIBUTIONS to the Family History of some of the First Settlers of Connecticut and Massachusetts." He accordingly selected enough as he thought to make a volume of four or five hundred pages, and after a thorough revision commenced their publication, but had not proceeded far when he was obliged to suspend his labors, by an attack of sickness from which he never recovered.

After lingering for many months in his sick-room, with periods of great suffering, which he bore with exemplary patience, and with intervals too of assured hope that he might again resume his favorite studies, he died on the 29th of May, 1855, in the 74th year of his age. His funeral was attended by a large concourse of his fellow citizens, who entertained for him the highest respect for the exemplary diligence and fidelity with which he had discharged important public trusts, and for his industrious, useful and upright life.

In an article published in the Connecticut Courant on the day following his funeral, Mrs. Sigourney presents the following discriminating estimate of the character of Mr. Goodwin :

“All his services for the public were discharged with incorruptible fidelity, and a diligence and punctuality seldom equalled. Neither is it slight praise that in the intercourse growing out of them, with people of varying rank and occupation, he should have been enabled to ever preserve his self-command, and steadfastly to regard the rights of the humblest, and to treat with respect the opinions of those from whom he differed.

“Antiquarian tastes had the predominance in his mind, and the genealogical works he has been induced to give to the press, are models of persevering research and accurate arrangement. Even his chirography might seem correctly to symbolize his character—plain, neat, upright, perfect in punctuation, rejecting all factitious flourish, and as legible as the clearest typography.

“In his household, as well as in the community, his judgment was revered, and the authority of his example invariably upheld useful employment, and solid comfort, as opposed to vain ostentation or the sway of fickle fashion. His whole life was marked by that avoidance of display; that freedom from the pride of wealth; that regard for honest industry, which ought to take high rank among the virtues of a republic, interwoven as they are with its stability and health. He was conspicuous for “a sound mind in a sound body;” for the love of order and the spirit of peace.

“Venerable neighbor and friend, we lay thee in thy grave at this last vernal sunset, not without sorrow. Thou wert one of the few representatives of a race rapidly vanishing away, who illustrated the virtues and the manners of the olden time: Peace to thy stainless memory. We think of thee now, as with that Saviour, to whom in truth and humility thou didst commit thine everlasting trust."

Mr. Goodwin was one of the original incorporators of the Connecticut Historical Society, although he seldom met with its members. He was at the time of his death a Vice-President of the New England Historic-Genealogical Society—whose appreciation of the deceased was expressed in the following preamble and resolutions.

"At a meeting of the New England Historic-Genealogical Society, held August 1st, 1855, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

"WHEREAS we have heard of the decease of Hon. NATHANIEL GOODWIN, of Hartford, Conn., one of the Vice-Presidents of the Society. Therefore,

"Resolved, That we deeply regret the loss the Society has sustained in the death of a most useful, active and valuable member, and we heartily sympathise with the family and relatives in their severe affliction.

"Resolved, That the Corresponding Secretary request the family to furnish for the use of the Society, or for publication in the Genealogical Register, the leading facts and incidents of his life.

"Resolved, That the Secretary be requested to forward a copy of these proceedings to the family of the departed.

"CHARLES MAYO,

"Recording Secretary."

Mr. Goodwin, from his habits of patient and persevering industry, from his official familiarity with early records, and from his grateful admiration of the character and services of the early settlers of Connecticut, was admirably fitted for his work. In the introduction to his genealogy of the "Foote Family," he thus expresses himself as to the rewards and ultimate aims of his labors.

"To the author, the labor of looking through the dusty and fast perishing records of the past, has carried along with it, its own sweet reward. Every step in his investigations, has been on some fragment of reverend history which has exalted his admiration of the sufferings and services,—of the far-sighted policy, the religious devotion and public spirit of the founders of our own little State: and he will feel amply honored, if his labors shall prove in any measure successful in chiseling deeper the inscriptions on their tombstones—in renewing the memory of their virtues from oblivion, and in brightening the links which connect the present generation with the first generation of New England, and thereby infusing a larger spirit of patriotism into the life of to-day.

“Our researches into the past will fail of their true import, unless the living are instructed by its experience, warned by its trials, and quickened by its example.”

OZIAS GOODWIN.

OZIAS GOODWIN, one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn., was born about 1596, as in 1674, in a deposition, Ozias Goodwin calls himself aged 78 years. He was a brother of elder William Goodwin, also one of the first settlers of Hartford.

Ozias Goodwin died about April, 1683.

Mr. Benjamin Blakeman, aged about 60 years, died March 20th, 1715." Grave Stone, Copp's Hill burying ground, Boston. By records he appears to have had children, but I do not find their names.‡

* Rev. Adam Blakeman left a Will, dated 1st mo: 16, 1665, [March 16, 1665.]

The following extract from that instrument contains an important historical reference to the form of Church Discipline approved by the Reverend Elders and brethren of the Colony of Connecticut, and of the Bay in 1649, and set forth by Rev. Thomas Hooker, first minister of Hartford, in his elaborate work entitled "The Survey of Church Discipline."

"Item. Because many of God's servants have been falsely accused concerning the judgment of the kingly power of Christ: though I have cause to bewail my great ignorance and weakness in acting, yet I do and hope I shall, through the strength of Christ, to my dying day, adhere to that form of Church Discipline agreed on by the Rev. Elders and brethren in the year 49, now in print. And to the truth of God concerning that point, left on record by that famous and Rev. servant of God, of blessed memory, Mr. Thomas Hooker, in his elaborate work called 'The Survey of Church Discipline,' to which most in all the churches of Christ then gathered in this colony gave their consent, as appears in the Rev. author's epistle, so at Milford, New Haven, Guilford, and those in the Bay, who could be come at in that stress of time. And, I being one who, in the name of our church, subscribed that copy, could never, (through the grace of Christ,) see cause to receive any other judgment nor fall from those principles so soundly backed with Scripture, and arguments which none yet could overturn."

† Mrs. Blakeman's Will, which will be found recorded on Fairfield Probate Records, is dated September 20, 1671. Her inventory bears date January 23, 1678-4.

I.

JOHN BLAKEMAN, of Stratford, Conn., was married to Dorathy Smith, daughter of Rev. Henry Smith, the first ordained minister of Wethersfield, Conn., about 1653. [After his death, she was married, 1. To Francis Hall, of Stratford, October 31, 1665. She Atwater, make his son Joshua a scholar, and fit him for that work, I give unto him all my Latin Books; but if not, they shall be put into my estate and disposed of as my wife and my overseers shall think fit." [After the date of his father's Will the Rev. Benjamin Blakeman was educated for the ministry, at Harvard College, and subsequently became a preacher of the Gospel.]

* The following statement of Rev. John Higginson, which I find recorded on the Land Records of the town of Stratford, informs us that 'the Meeting House at Hartford, (I suppose the reader may infer the first Meeting House,) was not builded in the beginning of the year 1638.' "Being desired to express what I remember concerning the transactions between the English at Connecticut and the Indians along the coast from Quillipoke to the Manatoes about the land, the substance I can say is briefly this: That in the beginning of the year 1638, the last week of March, Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Goodwin being employed to treat with Indians and make sure of that whole tract of land in order to prevent the Dutch, and to accommodate the English who might after come to inhabit here, I was sent with them as an interpreter, (for want of a better.) We having an Indian with us for a guide, acquainted the Indians as we passed, with our purpose, and went as far as about Narwoko before we stayed; coming thither on the sixth day we gave notice to the Sachem and the Indians to meet there on the second day that we might treat with them all-together about the business; accordingly on the second day there was a full meeting, (as themselves said) of all the Sachems, old men and Captaynes from about Milford to Hudson's River: after they had understood the cause of our coming and had consulted with us and amongst themselves, and that in as solemn a manner as Indians use to do in such cases, they did with an unanimous consent express their desire of the English friendship, their willingness the English should come to dwell amongst them and proofs that they did give and surrender up all their land to the English Sachems at Connecticut, and hereupon presented us with two parcels of wampum, the lesser they would give us for our message, the greater they would send us a present to the Sachems at Connecticut, it being not long after the Indian conquest, and the fear of the English being then upon them; it being moved amongst them which of them would go up with us to signify this agreement and to present their wampum to the Sachems at Connecticut, at last, Wauwhan and Wouwequarkpeansat offered themselves and were much applauded by the rest for it; accordingly these two Indians went up with us to Hartford; not long after there was a committee in Mr. Hooker's barn, the meeting house then not builded, where they two did appear and presented their wampum, and I remember I went out and attended the business no farther; so that what was further done or what writings there were about the business I cannot now say, but I suppose if search be made, something of the business may be found in the (contents, minutes or) papers of the Court; and I suppose if Mr. Goodwin be enquired of, he can say the same for substance as I have, and William Cornwall at Saybrook, who was there. Mr. Nicholas Knell testifies the same with Mr. Higginson as respecting the Indians giving the land to the English, and mentions the payment of money to the Indians as a gratuity for the gift. Taken this 3d April, '71.

† The following extract from the Will of the Rev. Adam Blakeman, should be read in connection with the annexed order of the Particular Court, held Oct. 10, 1685, having reference to the "unsuccessful suit" of one John Thomas, for the hand of the Widow Blakeman, whose many virtues caused her to be much sought after, she having been married three times after the death of her first husband.

"I give to my daughter Blakeman, if she marry not John Thomas, and shall take her friends' consent in the matter, or continue a widow, five pounds." [Daughter Widow Blakeman here referred to, was Dorothy Blakeman, widow of John Blakeman, (son of Rev. Adam Blakeman,) who died in 1682. She was daughter of Rev. Henry Smith, the first ordained minister of Wethersfield, Conn.]

At a particular Court held at Hartford, October 10, 1685. "The Magistrates do order, that in case John Thomas and the Widow Blakeman do not issue their difference by reference now concluded on, that the said Thomas shall make good his claim to that woman at the next Court held at Fairfield, otherwise, the widow shall have liberty to marry."

- 50 Joanna, born December 4, 1667. Said to have married David Watkins, of Stratford.

ABIGAIL BLAKEMAN was married to Hezekiah Dickinson, first of Stratford, Conn., then of Hatfield, Mass.; then of Hadley, Mass.; and then of Springfield, in the same State, December 4, 1679. He was son of Nathaniel Dickinson, one of the first settlers of Wethersfield, Conn., where he was born "the last of February, 1645."*

Mr. Hezekiah Dickinson died in Springfield, June 14, 1707, in his 63d year.

Mrs. Abigail Dickinson, alias Ingersoll, died ———.

Children.

- 51 Joanna, born February 2, 1684, in Hatfield.
- 52 Jonathan, born April 22, 1688, in Hatfield.†

* In 1659, Nathaniel Dickinson, the father of Hezekiah Dickinson, removed with his minister, Rev. John Russell, Jun., from Wethersfield to Hadley, Mass., and there continued to reside until his death, which occurred June 16, 1676. All his children, nine sons and one daughter, went with him.

† Rev. Jonathan Dickinson, son of Hezekiah Dickinson, and grandson of Nathaniel Dickinson, the settler, was pastor of the church in Elizabethtown, N. J., and subsequently President of the College of New Jersey, which was located in Elizabethtown, but afterwards removed to Newark, New Jersey, and finally to Princeton, N. J. He died in Elizabethtown, October 7, 1747, aged 59, leaving surviving of eight children, three daughters, the rest having died young. "As he lived a devout and useful life, and was a bright ornament of his profession, he died universally lamented."

One of the daughters of President Dickinson was married to Jonathan Sargeant, Esq., of Princeton, being his second wife, by whom he had two children, a son and daughter. The son was Jonathan Dickinson Sargeant, born in 1746, afterwards counsellor at law, Philadelphia.

Jonathan Dickinson Sargeant, Esq., married a daughter of Rev. Dr. Elihu Spencer, successor in the ministry to Rev. Jonathan Dickinson, at Elizabethtown, and subsequently Pastor of Trenton, N. J.

Rev. Dr. Spencer was a native of East Haddam, Conn., and descendant of Jared Spencer, who, in 1634, was one of the proprietors of land in "The New Town," now Cambridge, Mass., was admitted a freeman of Massachusetts, in 1637, removed from Cambridge to Lynn, in the same State, in 1637, had the ferry of Lynn, granted to him in 1638, removed to and was admitted an inhabitant of Hartford, Conn., in 1660, and in the same year, removed from Hartford to Haddam, Conn., where he continued to reside until his death, which took place in 1685.

Jonathan Dickinson Sargeant, Esq., died in 1793, in the 47th year of his age, leaving ten children.

The third child of Jonathan Dickinson Sargeant was John Sargeant, born about 1780, and died ———. He long occupied an eminent position at the Philadelphia bar, and was candidate for Vice President of the United States in 1832.

Sarah Sargeant, the second child of Jonathan Dickinson Sargeant, was born January 1, 1778, and in 1801, was married to Rev. Dr. Samuel Miller, now [1848] of Princeton College, having been 47 years his wife. This venerable and beloved minister died January 7, 1850, aged 80. From a letter dated December 4, 1848, addressed by Dr. Miller to a brother in the ministry, the compiler of these notes has been permitted to transcribe the following sentence.

- 53 Abigail, born December 8, 1690, in Hadley.
 54 Elizabeth, born March 9, 1698, in Hadley.
 54 Moses, born December 12, 1695, in Springfield.*
 55 Adam, born February 5, 1702, in Springfield.

"I am ashamed, my dear Sir, that the business of genealogy, has, in times past, engaged so little of my attention; and that now, when I see so much of its real value, a great deal, truly interesting to me, has irrecoverably gone."

[I am indebted to Rev. Richard Webster, of Mauch Chunk, Penn., a descendant of John Webster, one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn., and Hadley, Mass., and fifth Governor of the Colony of Connecticut, for much of the information contained in the above note.]

* Rev. Moses Dickinson, son of Hezekiah Dickinson, and grandson of Nathaniel Dickinson, the settler, was called from Maidenhead, N. J., and installed Pastor of the Congregational Church, at Norwalk, Conn. The following is the inscription on his monument: "Beneath this monumental stone lies interred the body of the Revd. Moses Dickinson, late pastor of the first Church of Christ in Norwalk, who departed this life May 1, 1778, in the 88d year of his age, and 51st of his ministry in said Church. A man of good understanding, well informed by study, cheerful in temper, prudent in conduct, he came to his grave in full age like as a shock of corn cometh in his season." His widow, Mrs. Hannah Dickinson, died at Plymouth, Conn., June 16, 1808, in the 99th year of her age.

LEONARD CHESTER,

ONE OF THE

FIRST SETTLERS OF WETHERSFIELD, CONN.

LEONARD CHESTER, one of the first settlers of Wethersfield, Conn., was married to Mary ———, of England, about 1634.* [After his death, she was married about 1655, to Hon. Richard Russell, of Charlestown, Mass. She was his second wife. Mrs. Maud Russell, first wife of Hon. Richard Russell, died in 1652. He died May 14, 1676, in the 65th year of his age.]

Leonard Chester, Esq., died December 11, 1648, aged 39.†

* In Genealogical Notes relating to the Chester family, shown me by George Brinley, Jun., Esq., of this city, is the following: "Leonard Chester came from England. He married Mary Wade, widow, daughter of Mr. Nicholas Sharpe."

† Leonard Chester was son of John Chester, of the parish of Blaby, in the county of Leicester, England, and of Dorothy, his wife, daughter of Thomas Hooker, of England, and sister of Rev. Thomas Hooker, one of the first settlers, and the first minister of Hartford, Conn., as I was informed by Sylvester Judd, Esq., of Northampton, Mass., about twelve years ago, and who told me this information was communicated to him several years previous, by a member of the family of Stephen Chester, Esq., of Wethersfield.

The following is a Copy of the last Will and Testament of Leonard Chester—"Memor. Whereas I have some years since drawn up the frame of my thoughts and desires into a writing, and committed it to the keeping of my uncle Thomas Hooker, now deceased; which writing, for the present, I cannot well come at: and further, because in the writing, I have not, so far as I remember, made any provision for my younger children, which have been born since: I do therefore hereby declare, that whatever provision is therein made for my younger children that were then born, the same provision I do appoint to be made for my younger children born since, so that they may all have their portions alike, equal one to another, except my eldest son to whom I have bequeathed and do still bequeath a double portion. And whereas in that my will, I have entreated Mr. J. Webster* and my cousin Newton† to be my Executors, I do hereby make known that my desire is to ease them of the trouble, and do constitute and appoint my loving wife to be my sole and alone Executrix. And lastly, because I have taken no order in that writing for the dispose of what estate I have remaining still in Old England, I do therefore hereby bequeath all that estate, whether in annuity, goods or otherwise, which either is or shall be of right appertaining unto me or my heirs; and in particular, one annuity of thirty quarters of barley issuing out of the estate of Nicholas Sharpe, deceased, and by his will bequeathed unto me and my heirs, for the selling whereof, I have sent over a letter of attorney to my father Wade: all this with whatever else will be coming to me out of Old England, I do give to my wife during her life, with all the profits that shall accrue therefrom; and after her decease, I do give and bequeath it to my children, viz.: to my eldest son, a double portion,—and to the rest, to every one an equal portion. That this is my full mind and final resolution and will, I do hereby, in testimony hereof, set my hand and seal, this 2d day of August, 1648.

LEONARD CHESTER.

"In the presence of us,
HE: SMITH,
WILLIAM SMITH,
THOMAS HANCOCK.

* John Webster, one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn.

† Rev. Roger Newton, first minister of Farmington, Conn., and afterwards, second minister of Milford, Conn. He married Mary Hooker, daughter of Rev. Thomas Hooker, first minister of Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Mary Chester, alias Russell, died at Charlestown, November 30, 1688, aged about 80.* [Charlestown Records.]

FIRST GENERATION.

Children of Leonard Chester, and of Mary his wife.

- I. John, born August. 8, 1635, at Watertown, Mass. [Watertown Rec.]
- II. Dorcas, born November 5, 1637, at Wethersfield.
- III. Stephen, born March 8, 1639, at Wethersfield. Died, unmarried, at Hartford, Conn., April 23, 1705.

My desire is to add something further to my within mentioned will, viz.:

1. In case my annuity in Old England shall not be sold, and so shall fall by law, upon my eldest son, that then whatever I have given to my eldest son by my will, viz.: that double portion of goods, shall be translated from him to my other children, to mend their portions.

2. In case any of my children shall prove undutiful and stubborn to their mother, that it shall be in the power of their mother to take away the one half of that portion I have bequeathed to that child, and to give it to such of the rest as shall be more dutiful to her.

These things, though in a rude and indigested manner, I desire for the present thus to set down,—intending, if God spare my life, to reduce all into one entire writing. This 24th of Aug. 1648.

LEONARD CHESTER.

* The following is a copy of her last will and testament as recorded on Middlesex Co. (Mass.) Probate Records.—“In the name of God, Amen. I Mary Russell, widow of the late Richard Russell, of Charlestown, in his Majesty's territory and dominion, in New England, [formerly Mary Chester, wife of Leonard Chester, late of Wethersfield, in the Colony of Connecticut, deceased,] being often weakly in body, but of reasonable good understanding and memory; and forasmuch as I know not how soon it may please God to take me out of this world, by death, I account it my duty, to resign up myself, soul and body to the good will and pleasure of the Lord of life and death,—hoping and trusting, that after this temporal life is ended, to receive everlasting happiness through the only merits of Jesus Christ my Lord and only Saviour. And as concerning what temporal estate it hath pleased God in his goodness to give unto me, I do, by this last will and testament, give and bequeath the same in manner as followeth.

“Imprimis. After my just debts shall be paid, and my decent funeral charges defrayed, I give and bequeath unto my eldest son, Capt. John Chester, of Wethersfield, in the aforesaid territory and dominion in New England, the sum of thirty pounds.

“Item. I give and devise to my daughter, Mrs. Dorcas Whiting, of Billerica, in the aforesaid territory, the sum of thirty pounds, and also, my wearing apparel, and that household stuff which I shall have remaining unwilling to any other; and to her husband, the Rev. Mr. Samuel Whiting, my son-in-law, ten pounds.

“Item. I give and bequeath to my grand-daughter Elizabeth Whiting, my bed and bedstead, bolsters, blanket and rug. More: I give to said Elizabeth the trunk which is in the chamber, and what is in it. More: I give to her my brass andirons, and silver tankards.

“Item. I give and bequeath to my second son, Stephen Chester, of the aforesaid Wethersfield, merchant, the sum of forty pounds,—one chest of drawers, and a painted carpet.

“I give and bequeath unto my daughter Prudence Russell's orphans, viz., my grandson, Thomas Russell, my brick house, with four feet front on the wharf, which I bought of my son Mr. Daniel Russell: and to my two grand-daughters, Mary Russell and Prudence Russell, fifteen pounds to each one of them. More, I give to my grand-daughter, Mary Russell, my silver wine cup marked M. D., and one silver spoon. More. I give to my grand-daughter, Prudence Russell aforesaid, my silver plate with the Chester arms on it. Also, I give unto the said Orphans, all that debt of thirty and two pounds due to me on the Book of Accounts. Further, it is my will, that the house and land where Thomas Rand lives, with the yard room, situated and lying in the aforesaid Charlestown, be equally given between the said Mary and Prudence Russell. Further, it is my mind and will that the small house and yard room where John Guppy at present lives, and the lean-to rising up against Dr. Chickering's, with the privilege of water at the well, be given unto my daughter, Mrs. Dorcas Whiting aforesaid.

“Item. I give unto my son-in-law, James Russell, Esq., the sum of five pounds.

“Item. I give unto my son-in-law, Capt. Richard Sprague, the sum of five pounds.

“Item. I give and bequeath unto my old servant, Jno. Coultman, of Wethersfield, if then living, twenty shillings.

“And further it is my will, that if my estate should fall short of the aforesaid legacies, then, that there be a proportionable abatement on every legatee.

“And further, I constitute and ordain my beloved sons, Mr. Samuel Whiting and Mr. Stephen Chester aforesaid, to be Executors of this my last will and testament. And in confirmation whereof, I have herunto set my hand and seal, this 20th day of November, A. D. 1688.

“EDWARD WILSON,
“JNO. NEWELL, Senr.”

- IV. Mary, born January 15, 1641, at Wethersfield. Supposed to have died in early life, as she is not named in her sister Mercy's will, nor can a trace of her be found.
- V. Prudence, born February 16, 1643, at Wethersfield.
- VI. Eunice, born January 15, 1646, at Wethersfield.
- VII. Mercy, born February 1647, at Wethersfield. Died in Charlestown, Mass., September 15, 1669, leaving a will. Gave her estate to her three sisters, Dorcas Whiting, of Billerica, and Prudence Chester and Eunice Chester, both of Charlestown, and her brother, Stephen Chester, of Charlestown, 'to be divided to them in such proportion as Testator's dear mother, Mrs. Mary Russell, shall prescribe.'

- 127 Henry Clarke, born July 14, 1818. Married Harriet Champion, of Michigan, February, 1844. He is a Lawyer.

*Great integrity, cheerfulness, frankness, sincerity, a strong and instinctive sense of justice, truthfulness that recoiled from a shadow of deception, and a deep reverence for God and sacred things, were the marked characteristics of her life.

†On the resignation of the first Principal of the American Asylum at Hartford for the Education and Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, (Rev. Thomas H. Gallaudet,) about twenty-three years since, Mr. Weld was appointed his successor; and for this long period he discharged the duties of the office with dignity and ability.

In all his arrangements and matters of business, he was remarkably punctual and systematic; careful to do everything in proper time and in due order. In his intercourse with his pupils, his chief aim and most earnest endeavour was to do them good, not merely by cultivating their intellects, but by improving their characters; by imbuing their minds with worthy sentiments and correct views. While solicitous to prepare them for usefulness and happiness in this present life, he was still more anxious to secure for them a blessed inheritance in the life to come. We doubt not, that in the great day of final revision, he will rejoice in the results of his labors and prayers. [Rev. William W. Turner.]

accomplishing a revolution of their own. On the morning of the 18th of April, the town of Boston was in arms. The Governor and Council were seized and confined, and the old magistrates reinstated. The country people came into town in such rage and heat as made all tremble to think what would follow. Nothing would satisfy them but that the Governor must be bound in chains or cords and put in a more secure place, and for their rule the was guarded by them to the Fort. Whose hand was on the collar of that prisoner, leading him through the excited crowd, at once securing him from escape and guarding him from outrage? It was the hand of DANIEL FISHER, of Dedham; aye "a second Daniel come to JUDGMENT," a son of the former, and heir of his energetic ardor in the cause of freedom."

The expulsion of His Excellency Gov. Andros from New England, so graphically described by Mr. Haven, was of a very different character from his reception into Boston, as noted by Judge Bewell in his "Interleaved Almanack." "On December 19, 1686. Arrived at Nantasket, his Excellency Sir Edmund Andros, His Majesties General Governour, of his Territory and Dominion in America. He landed at Boston, on the Monday following, and was received with general Acclamation of Joy."

* He was a child when his father brought him to Dedham, in 1635, and he is described as one of an excellent spirit, peaceable, generous, charitable, and a promoter of the true interests of the church and town. [Farmer.]

WILLIAM GOODRICH,

ONE OF THE

FIRST SETTLERS OF WETHERSFIELD, CONN.

ENSIGN WILLIAM GOODRICH, one of the first settlers* of Wethersfield, Conn., was married to Sarah Marvin, of Hartford, Conn., October 4, 1648, at Hartford. [After his death, she was married to Capt. William Curtis, Esq., of Stratford, Conn., son of John Curtis, one of the first settlers of that town, by whom she had no children. She was his second wife. Capt. William Curtis, Esq., died December 21, 1702.]

Ensign William Goodrich died 1676, aged —.

Mrs. Sarah Goodrich, alias Curtis, died at Stratford, near the close of the year 1702. She left a will, which is dated October 21, 1697, and was exhibited into, and approved by the Court of Probate, January 7, 1702-3.

FIRST GENERATION.

Children of Ensign William Goodrich, and Sarah, his wife.

I. William,	born August	8, 1649.	Died in childhood.
II. John,	born May	20, 1653.
III. Elizabeth,	born	1658.

VI. David,	born May	4, 1667.
VII. Sarah,	born
VIII. Mary,	born
IX. Abigail,	born

* On coming into New-England, the first settlers of Wethersfield, (among whom were William Goodrich and his brother John Goodrich,) located themselves at Watertown, Mass., with a view of making that place their permanent residence. In a "Record of the Grants and the Possessions of the Lands" in that town we find recorded to William Goodrich, six several tracts of Land, viz:

1. An homstead of 5 acres.
2. Three acres of remote meadow.
3. Ten acres and half of upland beyond the further plain.
4. Twenty-five acres of upland in the fourth division.
5. Three acres of plow-land on the further plain.
6. One acre of meadow at Beaver Brook."

In or about the year 1636, the Watertown Company, or the largest portion of them, including the brothers Goodrich, removed from Watertown to Wethersfield, Conn., and there planted themselves anew, and in the distribution of the town among the settlers, William Goodrich had assigned to him several lots.

It is not known from what part of England the Goodrich brothers emigrated. Enquirers on this point may derive aid from the following facts, viz:

[After her death, Mr. Curtis was married to Rachel Morgan, daughter of John Morgan, of Groton, Conn., March 17, 1715.] Mrs. Mary Curtis died ———. Mr. Thomas Curtis died ———. Child of Thomas and Mary Curtis, one only is recorded |

In 1678, there died in Hedgeset, Suffolk county, England, childless, Rev. William Goodrich, a minister of the established Church, leaving a will, in which he bequeathed certain specified real and personal estate to his wife, Rebecca Goodrich, during her natural life, with remainder to one of the sons of his brother, John Goodrich, and one of the sons of his brother, William Goodrich, naming them.

Mrs. Rebecca Goodrich, widow of Rev. William Goodrich, died in November, 1698, and was buried on the 18th day of the same month, after which Jonathan Goodrich and John Goodrich, the former son of said John, and the latter son of said William Goodrich, were entitled to receive, and did, I believe, receive under the will aforesaid about two hundred pounds sterling, each. Soon after the death of his aunt, Jonathan Goodrich took steps to possess himself of his devised estate.

Rev. William Goodrich's will is dated May 12, 1677. In it he appoints his wife Rebecca, sole executor, and his "kinaman," Henry Bull, senior, of Bury, in the county of Suffolk, and his "cousin," John Goodrich, eldest son now living of his "cousin," Robert Goodrich, of Haughley, overseers of the same.

I suppose Rev. William Goodrich, married a sister of John and William Goodrich, brothers, and hence entitles them his brothers.

In a letter written by said Henry Bull, of Bury, to John Goodrich, of Wethersfield, and dated July 16, 1678, to inform him of the death of Rev. William Goodrich, the writer says, "My wife, who was Jane Coates, and is your cousin, desires to be kindly remembered to you."

57.

JARED INGERSOLL, of New Haven, Conn., was married to Hannah Whiting, daughter of the Hon. Col. Joseph Whiting, of New Haven, August 1, 1743. She was born February 21, 1712. Col. Whiting was son of Rev. John Whiting, fourth minister of Hartford, Conn., and of Phebe, his wife, daughter of Thomas Gregson, of New Haven, and grandson of the Hon. William Whiting, one of the first settlers of Hartford.

Hon. Jared Ingersoll died at New Haven, August 25, 1781, aged 59.*

His widow, Mrs. Hannah Ingersoll, died ———.

* Mr. Ingersoll was graduated at Yale College in 1742; settled at New Haven as a lawyer, and was agent of the colony in England, in 1757; but being appointed distributor of stamps in Connecticut, under the stamp act, he lost his popularity. The people of New Haven compelled him to resign, August 24, 1766. Not deeming this resignation explicit, a large company from the eastern part of Connecticut set out on a journey to New Haven. They met Mr. Ingersoll at Wethersfield, when they compelled him to resign, and cry out three times, Liberty and Property. The next day 500 men escorted him to Hartford. On being appointed admiralty judge for the middle district, about the year 1770, he removed to Philadelphia; but in consequence of the Revolution, he returned to New Haven, where he died. The following account of this affair is taken from the Connecticut Courant, of September 23, 1766, published at Hartford.

"Last Wednesday afternoon a large company of able bodied men came to town, (on horseback,) from the eastern part of this government, and informed those who were willing to join them, that they were on their way to New Haven to demand the stamp officer of the colony to resign his office; that a number of their associates had gone on the lower roads, and that they had all agreed to rendezvous at Branford the next day, (Thursday,) and that they should tarry in town that night: they then dispersed to different parts of the town for lodging. In the evening, advice was received that Mr. Ingersoll was on the road to this place,—that he would be in town next day, and that he intended to apply to the assembly for their protection; and it being conjectured that he might come to town in the night, to shun the mob, (who he heard were on their way to pay him a visit,) it was agreed that a watch should patrol the streets all night, to prevent his coming in unnoticed, but they made no discoveries. On Thursday morning, the whole body (including a considerable number from this town,) set off on the intended expedition, and in about an hour, met Mr. Ingersoll at the lower end of Wethersfield, and let him know their business. He at first refused to comply; but it was insisted upon that he should resign his office of stamp master, so disagreeable to his countrymen. After many proposals, he delivered the resignation mentioned below, which he read himself in the hearing of the whole company. He was then desired to pronounce the words, Liberty and Property, three times, which he having done, the whole body gave three cheers. Mr. Ingersoll then went to a tavern, and dined with several of the company. After dinner, the company told Mr. Ingersoll, as he was bound to Hartford, they would escort him there, which they did to the number of five hundred persons, on horseback. After they arrived in town, Mr. Ingersoll again read his resignation in public, when three huzzas were given, and the whole company immediately dispersed, without making the least disturbance.

"The following is a copy of Mr. Ingersoll's resignation:

"WETHERSFIELD, September 19, 1766.
"I do hereby promise that I never will receive any stamp papers which may arrive from Europe, in consequence of any act passed in the Parliament of Great Britain, nor officiate in any manner as stamp master, or distributor of stamps within the colony of Connecticut, directly or indirectly. And I do hereby notify all the inhabitants of his majesty's colony of Connecticut, (notwithstanding the said office or trust has been committed to me,) not to apply to me ever hereafter for any stamped papers, hereby declaring that I do decline said office, and execute these presents of my own free will and accord, without any equivocation, or mental reservation. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand.

"J. INGERSOLL."

David Ingersoll, Esq., died June 10, 1774, in the 34th year of his age.*

* In Memory of David Ingersoll, Esq. His piety was early and unaffected: His benevolence, pure and universal. As a civil officer,—a minister of God, for good. In friendship, endearing and faithful. A pattern of conjugal and parental affection. In prospect of a better state, he departed this life July 10, 1774, in the 34th year of his age. All on earth is shadow: all beyond is substance. The reverse is folly's creed. How solid all where change shall be no more.

*Here lyeth the Body of Ann Jones, aged 78 years, dyed the 1 of May, 1680.—Upon y^e death of that pious Matron: She lived a pious, holy, godly life,—being now escaped free from hate and strife." [Grave stone, Watertown Ancient burying ground.]

† In the Name of God, Amen. I, Lewis Jones, in Watertown, in New-England, being at this present of perfect understanding and memory, though weak in body,—committing my soul into the hands of Almighty Good, and my body to decent burial, in hope of a resurrection unto eternal life through the merits and power of Jesus Christ my most gracious Saviour and Redeemer; do thus dispose of that estate which God hath graciously given unto me: Considering the weak and helpless condition of my dear wife Ann Jones and of my son Shubael Jones, my will and pleasure is, that the whole of my estate, (after the discharge of my debts and my burial,) be improved for their supply, the benefit of it, and also, the principal, if they stand in need thereof. And further, my will and pleasure is, that when the Lord shall please to remove either of them by death, that then that which remaineth shall be wholly entitled to the use of the other so long as either of them shall live; and if the Lord shall so dispose that anything remaineth after their death, that then what remaineth be divided, two parts to my daughter Lydia Whitney, if she be then living, and one to my son Josiah; but if Lydia be dead, that then what remaineth be divided equally to my son Josiah, if living, or such of his children as shall be living, and the children of my daughter Lydia that shall be then living. And of this my last will, I do constitute my son Josiah Jones, my sole Executor, and do earnestly desire my loving friend and brother John Stone to be overseer to assist my son in the managing of the estate so as may be best for the comfort of my poor wife and child aforesaid. And in confirmation hereof, I have set hereunto my hand and seal.

"Where is that pleasing form? I ask: thou can'st not show:
He's not within, false stone there's nought but death below.
And where's that pious soul, that thinking, conscious mind?
Wilt thou pretend, vain cypher, that's with thee enshrined?
Alas, my friends, not here with thee that I can find;
Here's not a Sargeant's body, or a Sargeant's mind.
I'll seek him hence, for all's alike deception here,
I'll go to Heaven, and I shall find my Sargeant there."

- 91 Sarah Amanda, born August 11, 1779. Married Rev. David L. Ogden, Pastor of the Congregational Church, in Southington, Conn., January 14, 1824.

* From New-York Express, of Monday, June 5, 1854.

The late Mrs. Emily Judson, (whose death, at Hamilton, in this State, was announced by telegraph, yesterday,) was about 40 years of age. Her maiden name was Emily Chubbuck. Her native place was Eaton, in Madison county, New York. She first became known to the public as a writer for periodicals, and under the assumed name of "Fanny Forester," she acquired great reputation as a writer of refined taste. Her success as a writer induced Miss Chubbuck to appear, under her literary cognomen of "Fanny Forester," as the author of "Alderbrook," and other volumes, in the school of light literature, all inculcating moral lessons, and tending to increase her reputation as a female writer of great delicacy and elegance of style. In June, 1846, Miss Chubbuck astonished her many admirers by an entire change in her career and pursuits, in announcing her resolution to devote herself to a missionary life, and of course leaving her native country with but doubtful prospects of a future return to her relatives and friends. At that time she became the third wife of the Rev. Adoniram Judson, D. D., Baptist missionary to Burmah, in Asia, and on the 11th of July she embarked with her husband and other missionaries, in the ship Fanwell Hall, from Boston for India. The missionary labors of Dr. Judson in Burmah, or eastern India, extended over a period of about thirty-nine years, terminating with his death in September, 1850. While in Burmah his views respecting baptism underwent a change, in consequence of which he left the Congregationalists in 1814, and joined the Baptist church. Soon after the death of her husband, Mrs. Judson returned to the United States, and for the last two years had been in somewhat feeble health.

THIRD GENERATION.

JEREMIAH JUDSON, of Stratford, Conn., was twice married.
 1. To Sarah Foote, daughter of Nathaniel Foote, of Wethersfield, Conn., and one of the first settlers of that town, 1652. She died 1673, aged about 41. 2. To Catharine Fairchild, widow of Thomas Fairchild, late of Stratford, deceased, November 8, 1675. Her maiden name was Catharine Cragg. She was married to Mr. Fairchild, in London, about the close of the year 1662, and was his second wife. Mr. Fairchild died December 14, 1670. At or about the time of his second marriage, viz., on the 22d of December, 1662, Mr. Fairchild executed a bond "to John Winthrop, of Hartford," (who was then in London,) "for Mrs. Elizabeth Whiting, of the city of London,"—with condition, that so soon as he, the said Fairchild, should arrive at Stratford, he would invest his wife with a good title to sundry parcels of real estate, situated in that town. This Mrs. Elizabeth Whiting may have been the wife of William Whiting, of London, merchant, son of William Whiting, one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn.

Mr. Jeremiah Judson died of Palsy, after a protracted illness, May 15, 1701, in the 79th year of his age.

John Kent, Esq., died June 24, 1737, aged 49.

* John Kent (who was married May 9, 1686,) was probably born about 1660 or 1665. He died in 1721. Mr. Judd, in his letter of February 14, 1853, says,—“In the settlement of the estate of John Kent, a reference is made to the will of John Kent, his father. We may therefore assume that his father's name was John, but his place of residence is not given.”

N. B. I think Mr. Judd is mistaken in his above statement, for being at Northampton August 26, 1853, I examined the proceedings in the county clerk's office on the settlement of the estate of John Kent, (Book 4, page 101,) in which, among an account of debts due from the estate of John Kent, late of Suffield, deceased, I found the following entry, (it being no doubt, the same entry on which Mr. Judd, from hasty inspection, founded his opinion.) viz.: “Due to John Kent, for a yoke of oxen and a horse given to him in his grandfather's will, to which will, his father, John Kent, deceased, was executor.” This entry is, I think, an index to the name of the father of John Kent, whose estate is here under settlement.

was endued by the great author of all good gifts, with a sprightly genius, a quickness of invention and readiness of thought; was of a cheerful, sociable, compassionate, hospitable disposition,—furnished with a rich treasure of knowledge, both human and divine, which being sanctified by divine grace, rendered him very useful in life. As a Christian, he excelled in the cardinal grace of humility: was ever inclined to think low of his attainments and performances: he was enriched with many ministerial gifts and qualifications; with an uncommon faculty to prevent and heal difficulties; was much improved and greatly serviceable in councils: but 'tis well known, to all his judicious acquaintance, that he excelled more especially as to pulpit talents. His composition was truly good,—his matter sound and instructive,—his manner of address, solemn and serious:—he delivered with a pathos becoming the importance of the subject;—he was a faithful, painful, profitable, searching preacher, and as such was exceeded by but few; and to human appearance, it pleased God to improve him as an instrument of gathering in many lost souls to Christ. He quitted mortality with a Christian fortitude and serenity, and with good reason we conclude he is gone to receive the rewards of a faithful servant of Christ. He left a second wife a disconsolate widow, and seven children. His bereaved widow is sister to the late Hon. Governor Fitch."

all the goods, chattels and personal estate of the said Cotton Mather which belonged and appeared to him at the time of his decease, as the same are particularly named and expressed in an inventory of the same exhibited into the probate office for the county of Suffolk, on the 5th day of August, 1728, to have and to hold, &c.

Dated April 24, 1730.

Vol. xxviii. page 22. Court, May 28, 1730. Suffolk, ss. By the Hon. Josiah Willard, Esq., Judge of Probate. Whereas, it appears to me by the inventory and account presented by Nathaniel Goodwin, administrator to the estate of the Reverend Doctor Cotton Mather, late of Boston, clerk, deceased, that there is clear personal estate, amounts to two hundred and forty and five pounds, five shillings and two pence, after administration charges and payments by him made are deducted, one-third part thereof, being eighty-one pounds fifteen shillings and three pence, belongs by law to Lydia Mather, wife of said Cotton Mather, he dying intestate,—two single shares or fourth parts of the remaining two-thirds, being eighty-one pounds eleven shillings and two pence, appertains and belongs to Samuel Mather, clerk, only surviving son of the said deceased, and the rest of his children, viz., Abigail Willard, deceased, wife of Daniel Willard, also deceased, their children, as legal representatives, and Hannah Mather, spinster, are by law entitled to a single share of their said father's estate, amounting to forty pounds, fifteen shillings and ten pence half penny, to each of them.

I do therefore hereby order the said administrator to pay the said widow and children, or their respective guardians, their parts and shares of their said father's estate, accordingly,—they bearing their proportion of all such debts as shall hereafter appear due and owing from his estate.

Given under my hand and seal of the said court of probate the 25th of May, 1730.

Mr. Michael Metcalf died December 27, 1664, aged 78.

Mrs. Mary Metcalf, alias Pidge, died ———.

FIRST GENERATION.

Children of Michael Metcalf, by his first wife, Sarah Metcalf,—all born in England.

- I. Michael, born November 13, 1617. Died young, in England.
- II. Mary, born February 14, 1618. Married Henry Wilson, November 24, 1642.
- III. Michael, born August 29, 1620.
- IV. John, born September 5, 1622. Settled in Medfield. Married Mary Chickering, daughter of Francis Chickering, of Dedham, March 22, 1647, died November 27, 1675.

* See Genealogical Register, April, 1852.

† Michael Metcalf, the emigrant ancestor of this family, was born in Tatterford, county of Norfolk, England, 1598. His wife Sarah was born in the adjoining town of Wearham, June 17, 1593, where they were married, October 13, 1616. Their seven oldest children were born in St. Benedict's, Norwich, and four, afterwards, at St. Edmundsbury. "I was persecuted," he writes, "in the land of my father's sepulchres, for not bowing at the name of Jesus, and observing other ceremonies in religion, forced upon me, at the instance of Bishop Wren, of Norwich, and his chancellor Dr. Corbet, whose violent measures troubled me in the Bishop's Court, and returned me into the High Commissioners' Court. Suffering many times for the cause of religion, I was forced, for the sake of the liberty of my conscience, to flee from my wife and children, to go into New-England; taking ship for the voyage at London, the 17th of Sep' 1636; being by tempests tossed up and down the seas till the Christmas following, then veering about to Plymouth in Old England, in which time I met with many sore afflictions.

"Leaving the ship, I went down to Yarmouth, in Norfolk county, whence I shipped myself and family, to come to New-England; sailed 15th April, 1637, and arrived three days before midsummer, with my wife, nine children and a servant." The name of this servant appears to have been Thomas Comberbach, aged 16. [Manuscript of Hon. James Savage.]

The above extracts we take from a copy of his letter, written in Plymouth, Eng., Jan. 13, 1638, on his voyage hither; directed, "To all the true professors of Christ's Gospel within the city of Norwich." In the postscript, he remarks, "my enemies conspired against me to take my life, and, sometimes, to avoid their hands, my wife did hide me in the roof of the house, covering me over with straw."

History informs us, that one of the charges brought against Bishop Wren, by a Committee of Parliament, was, that during the term of two years and four months, while he held the See of Norwich, "3000 of his Majesty's subjects, many of whom use trades, spinning, weaving, knitting, making cloth, stuff, stockings, and other manufactures of wool, some of them setting a hundred poor people at work," "transported themselves into Holland," and "other parts beyond the seas" in consequence of his "superstition and tyranny." (See appendix to Dr. Lamson's Hist. Discourses.)

Michael Metcalf was admitted a townsman at Dedham, July 14, 1637; joined the church in 1639, and was selectman in 1641. His name stands first on the Committee chosen to "contrive the fabrick of a meeting house."

* "The 98th anniversary of Rev. Dr. Nott's birth was observed by a numerous company of Parishioners and friends, at his house in Franklin, Ct., on the 23d of January, 1852. There were 160 persons present, whose overflowing baskets of rich provisions, &c., showed the abiding esteem in which the people hold their venerated pastor. The aged divine, trembling under the blasts of 98 winters, leaning on the arm of his grand-daughter, stood at the end of the long table groaning under the weight of tempting eatables tastefully arranged, and invoked the blessing of God in appropriate terms. He also led in prayer near the close of the pleasant and cheerful interview. The entertainment finally wound up with singing. The Doctor's bodily health is still good, though now the oldest pastor in the Union."

* Lieut. Benjamin Colt, [of Hadley ?] died August 30, 1781, aged 43. He was the father of Christopher Colt, of Hartford, Conn.

† "Died in Hadley, on the night of May 22d, Moses Porter, Esq., 85 years, 8 months and 4 days. A few words in memory of this father in Israel, will gratify many of your readers. He was a grandson of the elder President Edwards, and the oldest of his descendants, at the time of his death, it is believed. He had lived all his life, and died, in the house in which he was born. In youth he gave his heart to Jesus, and through his long and active life, love to God and men, governed his actions. Sound in judgment, prompt and energetic in action, kind and generous in his feelings, and influenced by Christian principle, in his dealings with his fellows, he naturally secured the confidence, and received the honors of his fellow-citizens, in those days, when to hold an office was an honor. He often represented his native town in the Legislature, was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1820, and held various commissions of honor and usefulness, both civil and military.

"In him the widow and the fatherless, always found a friend and safe counsellor; and he administered upon more estates, than ever any other man, in the County of Hampshire,—a fact equally honorable to his business ability, his uprightness, and his kindness of heart.

"To the poor his hand was ever open, and to the sick his frequent visits and prayers were ever welcome. He was a happy, cheerful, consistent Christian,—constant and faithful in his public duties, and exhibiting the appropriate fruits in his daily life. His conversation naturally and fitly turned to religious topics, upon which he seemed to speak out of the abundance of his heart. Hundreds who have partaken of his abounding hospitalities, so kindly and gracefully proffered, will recollect how, as they listened to his words, and perceived to what an extent his views of all subjects were modified by their relations to God and his providence,—and especially as they joined in those precious family devotions, when he commended to his Father in heaven, with such touching simplicity and earnestness of faith, not only his own loved ones, but themselves and theirs,—the conviction came over them that he, while enjoying in rare abundance the blessings of this life, was truly seeking a better country, even an heavenly.

"Well does the writer remember with what power, in his youth, a day's sojourn under the roof of this aged servant of Christ testified to the power of religion, and commended it to his acceptance. Would that such a savor of Christ was found in every Christian life.

"His end, for which he had long waited in calm and joyful hope, was peaceful and fitting. After leading in family devotions and preparing his house for night, as usual, he was suddenly called away, and departed in his ordinary attire to meet the God with whom he had so long walked on earth. Precious is the life and precious the death, of those who love the Lord." [Newspaper.]

ROBERT SEDGWICK.

FIRST GENERATION.

GENERAL ROBERT SEDGWICK, of Charlestown, Mass., and one of the first or early settlers of that town, was married in England, to ———. [After his death, she was married to Rev. Thomas Allen, Pastor of the Congregational Church in Norwich, England, formerly teacher of the Church in Charlestown from about 1689, to 1651, when he returned to England, by whom she had no children. She was his second wife. He died September 21, 1673, aged 65.*]

Gen. Robert Sedgwick died at Jamaica, W. I., May 24, 1656.†

* History of Charlestown, by Richard Frothingham, jun., Esq.

† Robert Sedgwick was one of the most distinguished men of his time. The family is supposed to have sprung from the northern counties of England. Johnson furnishes the earliest notice of Mr. Sedgwick, writing that he "was nursed up in London's artillery garden," and "was stout and active in all feats of war." He was admitted an inhabitant of this town June 3, 1636; a freeman in 1637, and this year chosen representative, and several times afterwards. He was also selectman, and often engaged in town business. He was probably, a merchant, and on occasion of selling his goods too high, was admonished, (1639,) by the Court, to take heed of oppression. He was the captain (1636) of the first "trained band" of this town, the first major (1644) of the Middlesex regiment, and elected major general May 26, 1652. In 1641, 1645, and 1648, he commanded the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, and in 1641, the Castle. In 1645, he had a commission to take care of the fortifications of the town, and to keep it and the harbor "from all hostile and mutinous attempts or insurrections." He was, among other duties, directed to have always in readiness "a barrel of powder for every six pieces of ordnance, with twelve shot and five pound of match, if any ships in the harbor shall quarrel and shoot one another; whereby the people, or houses may be endangered."

Previous to July 1, 1654, General Sedgwick had visited England, and engaged in the service of Cromwell, as commander of a contemplated expedition against the Dutch at New York. In a letter to the Protector, of this date, Sedgwick informed him of his arrival here, and of his proceedings; namely, that in fourteen days he had victualled his ships, and in six more was ready with nine hundred foot and a company of horse, to act against the enemy, when, June 1, news of peace arrived; and that commissioners, at a meeting in Charlestown, June 17, had determined to employ the force against the French forts in Nova Scotia. Sedgwick sailed, July 4, 1654, from Boston, with a fleet, consisting of the Augustine, Church, Hope, and a Ketch; arrived at St. John's, a strong fort, on the 14th; captured it on the 17th, then took Port Royal and another French fort, and sailed for Piscataqua.

Though the General Court questioned General Sedgwick's authority for doing this, yet such vigorous action was so acceptable to Cromwell, that the next year he was appointed to an important service in the West Indies. Jamaica had been captured; and General Sedgwick was sent, with a fleet under his orders, with reinforcements for the army under General Venables. He sailed from Plymouth July 11, 1655; and arrived at Barbadoes, August 27, when he learned that Venables had met with a repulse, losing four hundred men. A few extracts from Sedgwick's letters show the state of his feelings. Writing to Cromwell, September 1, 1655, he says:—

"I must confess, I cannot bring my own spirit to stand and consider what I may understand of the mind and will of God, and what he speaks in so loud a voice as this. I must conclude this, that God is righteous in his proceedings, to curb and bring low the pride of the sons of men."

The same letter concludes in the following manner:—

"I am resolved to attend my business with as much wisdom and vigor as God shall assist me with, I thank God, my heart in some measure beareth me witness, that it is the glory of God, that I intended in this employment, and I hope he will yet own us. Our condition I am confident, is often remembered by you in your approaches to Heaven, and I hope will yet be. Religion and God was pretended, and I question not intended, and I know must now be attended, if we prosper. Let your highness be pleased to pardon my boldness and prolixity. I thank God my prayers are for you, and that the God of wisdom and grace may yet own you in your so many weighty affairs, that you may be a blessing to your generation. and serviceable to Christ, and to his people.

"Sir, I am willing to be, and wish I were,

"Your Lordship's humble Servant,

"ROBERT SEDGWICK."

General Sedgwick's letters, [in Thuroloe's State Papers,] long, able and interesting, present a vivid view of the difficulties he had to encounter. "The truth is" he writes the Protector, November 6, 1655, "God is angry, and the plague is begun, and we have none to stand in the gap." "Sir, you cannot conceive us so sad as we are, broken and scattered, God rending us in twain, a senseless hearted people, not affected with his dealings towards us." There was the evil of a divided command. A council for managing the affairs of the island was formed, of which Sedgwick, appointed commissioner by Cromwell, was one, and General Porteusque was president. The latter soon fell a victim to the climate. At this time General Sedgwick made two requests to the Protector:—

"One is, if God spare me life, that your highness would be pleased to permit me to come to England. But I am not very solicitous in that, sometimes thinking that another place will be my portion, before I may hear again from your highness.

"The other petition is: I left behind me a dear and religious wife, who through grace hath much of the fear and knowledge of God in her. I have also five children, to me dear and precious. I would only by this, that your highness would cast one thought towards them; that whatever hazard or hardship I may go through, yet my relations may not be forgotten. I only expect, what your highness was pleased to promise me, that she may not be troubled in obtaining it in such seasons, as may tend to her comfort."

Gen. Sedgwick renews the latter request,—in relation to his pay,—to Cromwell's secretary, Thuroloe, in letters dated November 1, and November 12, 1655; remarking, "the truth is, my heart and spirit are in a confusion, and (I) think it may sometimes finish my few days I have here to be." His presentiment proved true. So far from granting his request to return, the Protector sent him a commission to command the army. "He never enjoyed himself," writes one of his officers, "after he received his commission," "but as was apparent to all men, from that time lost much of freedom and cheerfulness." He died May 24, 1656.

Charlestown has cause to remember the public spirit of General Sedgwick. He took a warm interest in its welfare; and either as selectman, representative, or a member of an important committee, was constantly in its service. He was an enterprising merchant, as we find him building wharves on the shore east of the old ferry-ways, carrying on a brewing establishment, building the old Tide Mills, and interested in the Iron Works at Lynn. He was zealous in disciplining his company,—freely spending time and money, Johnson says, for this purpose. The train band manifested their feelings towards him by the grant, somewhat irregularly, of a piece of land, which the town "to gratify the major," confirmed. His residence was in the market place, now the square, near the site of the Bunker Hill Bank.

Robert Sedgwick was a representative of the liberal Puritans of early New-England. Religion was in all his thoughts, and yet he openly opposed the prevailing intolerance. His regard for education is seen in his gifts to the College. He was "a very brave, zealous and pious man," "beloved and esteemed by all." Aylesbury, June 25, 1656, in Thuroloe, Vol. IV., p. 604. "He was truly a religious man, and of the most innocent conversation I ever accompanied." [History of Charlestown, by Richard Frothingham, jun., Esq.]

* Middlesex County Land Records, Vol. IV., page 230, May 20, 1657. By deed of this date, "Johanna Sedgwick, of the Parish of Stepney, in the County of Middlesex, the widow and relict of Major General Robert Sedgwick, late of Jamaica, in the parts beyond the seas, deceased," for the consideration of twelve pounds ten shillings, sells and conveys to Francis Norton, of Charlestown, "a right of commonage in Charlestown, for five cows." The deed is witnessed by Henry Moss, notary public, Jno. Leveritt, Jere. Jenoway and Peter Tilley, Boston,—and to the same is appended the following attestation:

"Boston, May 28, 1672. Massachusetts Colony. John Leveritt, Esq., deputy governor, being sworn, do say and attest that he was present and saw Joanna Sedgwick sign, seal and deliver this within instrument of conveyance, to the grantee, Francis Norton, of Charlestown, and that he subscribed his name as a witness thereto."

THIRD GENERATION.

I.

SAMUEL SEDGWICK, of London, England, was married to Elizabeth ———.

I do not find that he had or had not children: but have collected the following particulars relating to him.

Mr. Samuel Sedgwick was in the city of London, in 1657, as appears by the subscription of his name, as a witness to the will of Jonathan Wade, of Ipswich, Mass., which purports to have been executed in that city, on the 17th of June, 1657, and was proved before and approved by a Court of Probate held at Boston, July 8, 1686, and is recorded on Suffolk County Probate Records, Vol. XI., p. 40. Next after said Record is an entry of the following deposition:

"The deposition of Elizabeth Sedgwick, aged 33 years, or thereabouts. This deponent testifieth and saith, that for the space of six years, wherein she was wife to Mr. Samuel Sedgwick, late of London, deceased, she well knew his hand writing, and was perfectly acquainted therewith, and that she hath well viewed and considered the subscription of the said Sedgwick's name as a witness, and that she verily believes the same to have been done by himself, and no other. Taken upon oath, December 1, 1683, before Peter Bulckley, assistant.

Vol. III., page 332, of Middlesex County Land Records, is recorded an Indenture in writing, purporting to have been executed in the city of London, on the 20th of May, 1667, by Samuel Sedgwick, in which he describes himself as "citizen and cloath-worker, of London, sonne & heire of Robert Sedgwick, late of Charlestowne in New-England, in the parts beyond the Seas, Esq' deceased," and by which he conveys to "Francis Willoughby, of Charlestowne, in New-England, aforesaid, Esq'" his the said Samuel Sedgwick's house and land in Charlestown, and some other real estate, in, or in the vicinity of Charlestown.

STEPHEN SEDGWICK, of Farmington, Conn., was twice married. 1. To Mary Harris, widow of Joseph Harris, late of Litchfield, Conn., deceased,* December 16, 1725. She died November 2, 1760, in the 61st year of her age. 2. To Elizabeth Porter.

* The settlement of the town of Litchfield, the Indian name of which was Bantam, was commenced in the year 1720. During the frequent wars between England and France, the Canadians and Indians often harassed our borders; and Litchfield, being a frontier town, was exposed to their ravages.

"In the month of August, 1721, Mr. Joseph Harris (one of the first settlers of Litchfield, from Middletown) a respectable inhabitant, was at work in the fields alone, and being attacked by a party of Indians, attempted to make his escape. The Indians pursued him; and finding that they could not overtake him, they shot him dead and scalped him. As Mr. Harris did not return, the inhabitants were alarmed, and some search was made for him; but the darkness of the night checked their exertions. The next morning they found his body, and gave it a decent burial. Mr. Harris was killed near the north end of the Plain where the road turns to Milton, a little east of a school-house now standing; and for a long time after, this Plain was called Harris' Plain." The place of his interment remained unmarked for more than a century, but rested in the memory of the older inhabitants.

Mr. Stephen Sedgwick died August 13, 1768, of malignant fever, aged 67.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sedgwick died August 13, 1780, aged 78.*

WILLIAM SEDGWICK, of Hartford, Conn., was married to Mirriam Hopkins, widow of Elias Hopkins, of Hartford, deceased, and daughter of Capt. Daniel Webster, of Hartford, May 14, 1761.* Elias Hopkins was son of Consider Hopkins, of Hartford, and was born in 1726. [After the death of Mr. Sedgwick, she was married to John Marsh, of New-Hartford, Conn., November 27, 1777. She was his third wife. He died November 10, 1805, aged 78. His first wife, to whom he was married February 2, 1758, was Lucina Seymour. She died May 14, 1762. He was married June 17, 1763, to Sarah Nash, daughter of Moses Nash, of Wintonbury. She died July 17, 1775, aged 37. By her Hopkins husband, who is said to have died in Egremont, Mass., she had children, Elias, born 1752, Mirriam, born 1755, and Freelove, born 1757.]

Mr. William Sedgwick died 1771, aged 64.

Mrs. Mirriam Sedgwick, alias Hopkins, alias Marsh, died September 17, 1819, aged 90, nearly.

* Capt. Daniel Webster was great-grand-son of John Webster, one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn., and one of the early Governors of the Colony of Connecticut,—and after 1669, of Hadley, Mass., (where he died.) in the line of his son Robert Webster, and grandfather of the late Noah Webster, LL. D.

Capt. Daniel Webster aforesaid was twice married. 1. To Mirriam Kellogg, widow of Abraham Kellogg, and daughter of Noah Cooke, of Northampton, Mass., and of Sarah his wife, who, as appears to me, was daughter of Joseph Nash, one of the early settlers of Hartford, about 1719. She was born September 30, 1690. Abram Kellogg died soon after his marriage to Miss Cooke, leaving no issue. Noah Cooke was born June 14, 1667, and was son of Capt. Aaron Cooke, who came from England to Dorchester, Mass., in 1680, and removed to Windsor, Conn., in 1685 or 1686; to Northampton about 1690. After that he lived some years in Westfield, Mass., but returned to Northampton, where he died September 5, 1690, aged 80. Capt. Cooke married first, a daughter of Thomas Ford, of Windsor, and subsequently a daughter of Nicholas Denslow, and after her death, Elizabeth Nash, and after her death, Rebecca Smith, widow of Lieut. Philip Smith, of Hadley, Mass., deceased, and daughter of Nathaniel Foote, one of the first settlers of Wethersfield, Conn. Lieut. Smith died in 1684. Mather, in his Magnalia, says he was "murdered with an hideous witchcraft." The Denslow woman was the mother of Noah Cooke. The family name of the second wife of Capt. Daniel Webster, is unknown. Her Christian name was Hannah; she survived him, and died October 17, 1776. Daniel Webster died in 1766. His children, whose names and times of birth follow, were by his first wife.

REV. HENRY SMITH.

FIRST GENERATION.

REV. HENRY SMITH, first settled minister of Wethersfield, Conn., is supposed, from the tenor of his will, to have been twice married. Of his first wife nothing is known; of his second wife, her Christian name only, which was Dorathy. After his death, she was married to Mr. John Russell, of Wethersfield, father of Rev. John Russell, jun., successor of her first husband, in the ministry at Wethersfield, and afterwards first minister of Hadley, Mass. She was his second wife. Mr. John Russell died May 8, 1680, aged 83.*

| VIII. Elizabeth, born August | 25, 1648. |

* Mr. John Russell removed from Wethersfield to Hadley, with his son Rev. John Russell and his other children, in 1669.

† The births of the four youngest children of Rev. Mr. Smith are recorded in Wethersfield Records. In his will Mr. Smith mentions son Peregrine, deceased, and two married daughters, who had children: these daughters must, of course, have been older than those recorded. By the will of Mrs. Smith, alias Russell, there was a daughter Dorathy; she was older than those born in Wethersfield, and younger than the two elder daughters. Thus there is proof that there had been at least eight children. From these premises, it may confidently be inferred, that the two married daughters were by a first and different wife, and that Dorathy was by a second wife. As Noah and Elizabeth are not mentioned in the will of their mother, it is to be concluded they died young.

DESCENDANTS IN THE LINE OF OBADIAH SPENCER, SON OF THOMAS SPENCER, THE SETTLER.

SECOND GENERATION.

I.

OBADIAH SPENCER, of Hartford, Conn., was married to Mary Disborough, daughter of Nicholas Disborough,* one of the first settlers of Hartford.

* "In the year 1633, the house of Nicholas Disborough, at Hartford, was very strangely molested by stones, by pieces of earth, by cobs of Indian corn, and such other things, from an invisible hand, thrown at him, sometimes thro' the door, sometimes thro' the window, sometimes down the chimney, and sometimes from the floor of the room, (tho' very close,) over his head; and sometimes he met with them in the shop, the yard, the barn, and in the field.

"There was no violence in the motion of the things thus thrown by the invisible hand; and tho' others besides the man, happen'd sometimes to be hit, they were never hurt by them: only the man himself once had pain given to his arm, and once blood fetch'd from his leg, by these annoyances, and a fire in an unknown way kindled, consum'd no little part of his estate.

"This trouble began upon a controversy between Disborough and another person, about a chest of cloaths which the man apprehended to be unrighteously detained by Disborough; and it endured for divers months: but upon the restoring of the cloaths thus detain'd, the trouble ceas'd.

"At Brightling, in Sussex, in England, there happened a tragedy not unlike to this in the year 1669. 'Tis recorded by Clark, in the second volume of his Examples." [Mather's Magnalia, Book VII., Vol. II., page 398, Hartford edition.]

REV. SAMUEL STONE.

FIRST GENERATION.

REV. SAMUEL STONE, one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn., and second Pastor of the First Church in that town, appears to have been twice married. 1. To ————. 2. To Elizabeth Allen.* His wife survived him and was married to George Gardiner of Salem, Mass., merchant. [Mr. Gardiner appears to have been of Hartford in 1673.]

Mr. Samuel Stone, the Reverend Teacher of the Church of Christ at Hartford, died July 20, 1663.†

* On Boston 1st Church Records, p. 25, date of July 1641. "Letters of commendation were granted to John Winthrop the younger, going to England, the like for our bro. Mr. William Hibbins also going to England.

"Mr. Elizabeth Stone, lately called Mrs. Eliza Allen, but now the wife of Mr. Samuel Stone the teacher of the church of Hartford, in Conn., was granted letters of recommendation thither."

Turning back to 24 March, 1638-9, I find the admissions were Mr. Elizabeth Allen, Mr. Penelope Pelham and Elizabeth Story. Whether Elizabeth Allen were maiden or widow is not known to me, but my opinion is that not being called wife of any or widow, she was a young woman, for she lived to 1681. [Judge Savage.]

† The last Will and Testament of the Reverend Mr. Sam^l Stone, late teacher of the church of X^t at Hartford, who deceased July 20th, 1663.

Inasmuch as all men on earth are mortall, and the time of dying, was the manner thereof is only foreknowne and predetermined by the Majestic on high, and that it is a duty incumbent on all so farr forth to have their house set in order, as considerably to determine and dispose of all there outward estate, consisting in Hereditaments, Lands, Chattells, Goods of what kind soever, with all and either there appurtenances, to severall persons, that Righteousness and peace with love might be maintained for the future, and whereas at this present: That I Samuel Stone, of Hartford, vpon Connecticut: am by a gracious visitation, and warning from the Lord invited and called to hasten this present duty and service for ends premised, Being through the gentle and tender dealing of the Lord in full and perfect memorie, make and appoint this as my last Will and Testament as followes.

Imp: It is my will that Mr. Elizabeth Stone my loving wife shall be my true and sole executrix of this my last Will and Testament, and that without any intanglement or snare: the legacies given to herself being firstly possessed, all and every of them as they follow, and the after legacies to be made good out of ye remayneing estate if sufficient, otherwise a distribution according to that proportion, yet if there happen any overplus to be wholly and solely at the dispose of my sayd wife. Also I give unto my sayd wife (during the terme of her life) half my houseing and lands within the liberties of Hartford and to have the free dispose of the value of the sayd halfe of my lands at the time of her death, by legacy or otherwise. Also farther it is my will and I doe freely give unto my wife all the household stuff that I had with her when I marryd her, to be at her full and free dispose as shee shall see cause, other gifts which are more casual appear in the legacies following,

Itt: Also as my last will and Testament and in token of my fatherly love and care, I doe freely give and bequeath unto my son Samuel Stone at the time of my decease the other halfe of my houseing and lands within the liberties of Hartford aforesayd, and the other halfe of the houseing at the time of the death of my sayd wife, freely without any valuable consideration to be in any wise required, as also the other halfe of ye Land, but upon a valuable consideration as before premised in the Legacy given to my deare and loving wife. Also farther I doe freely give unto my sayd sonne all my Bookes excepting such as are otherwise disposed of in this my sayd last Will and Testament; But, provided my sonne Samuel departs this life before he is marryd, that then the whole of this my present legacy remayneing shall returne to and be wholly at ye dispose of my sayd loving wife.

†"The last will and testament of Richard Treat, senior late of Wethersfield, dec. is as followeth :

"Imprimis, I being weak and infirm of body, but of sound understanding, and of competent memory, do resign my soul to the Lord, hoping to be justified and saved by the merits of Christ, and my body to be buried.

"Item. I give and bequeath to my loving wife Ailis Treat, after my decease, all the lands of what kind soever, I stand possessed of within the bounds of Wethersfield, and five acres of land lying in the dry swamp which I have improved and prepared for use lying next my son James, his land.

"Item, one piece of meadow lying in the great meadow, commonly called by the name of Send Home.

"Item, the one half or eight acres next home of that piece of meadow commonly called Fillbarn.

"Item, the home lot by the plaine lape site.

"Item, the dwelling house that I formerly lived in with convenient yard room, and that end of the barn on the side the threshing floor, next the dwelling house, with the one half of that lot belonging to the said dwelling house, lying next his son Richard's house and lot, except my wife and son James shall agree otherwise.

"Item, all my pasture land fenced in beyond my daughter Hollister's lott.

"Item, the use of two of my best cows which she shall choose, which if they shall continue and stand longer than my loving wife liveth, they shall be my eldest son Richard Treats.

"Item, I give to my loving wife the standing bed, bedding, bedsted, with all the furniture thereto belonging, with the use of so much of the household goods during her life time as she shall judge needful for her comfort, of what sort soever.

"I give and bequeath to my eldest son Richard Treat, the full possession and confirmation of the farm of Nayog, with all the respective privileges thereto belonging, with three of my youngest bellers.

"Item, I give to my second son, Robert Treat, [born 1621,] ten pounds. [He settled in Milford. He married Jane Tapp, of Milford. She died April 8, 1703. He married again. Gov. Treat died July 12, 1710, in his 89th year, born 1621.]

† At a County Court held at Northampton, in and for the county of Hampshire, Mass., March 31, 1885,—“Saml Partrigg was allowed pay^t for drawing out Coppys of Testa to be sent to y^e Bay in Goodwife Webster's case w^hin [wherein] she was accused with famil-iaritee with y^e devell.”

† Mr. Thomas Webster settled in Northampton, Mass. In or about the year 1674, he removed to Northfield, but was soon driven away by the Indians, and went to Hadley, Mass. He, however, returned to Northfield, and there resided during the remainder of his life. He probably lost all his estate in Northfield, when attacked by the enemy in 1675, but at the time of his death, he left a good estate there in land; Northfield being broken up again in 1690, remained desolate over twenty years thereafter, and its lands became valueless. Mr. Webster's children were brought up among the Alexander and other relatives.

Hampshire County Court Records, Book I, p. 127. At a County Court, holden at Northampton, in and said County, March 28, 1670, “Thomas Webster, and Edward Scott, presented at the last Court at Springfield, for defaming [?] the Sabbath, by travelling to Westfield from ward Windsor late in the night before the Sabbath, and warned here to appear; and they were both admonished of their offence, and ordered to pay each of them, two and sixpence to the Recorder, as his fees, and so were dismissed.”

* I found a deposition, of which the following is a copy, enclosed in the Inventory of Anthony Hawkins.

"The deposition of Samuel Buckingham, of Milford, aged 34 years, saith, I being at my uncle, Mr. Anthony Hawkins, his house in Farmington, in the month called May, in the year 1664, my little cousins, [nieces, and nephews,] being going up and down before us, as my uncle and I sat together, I heard my uncle, Mr. Hawkins, say, concerning my cousin, [niece] Esther Thompson,—this little girl sucked when I married my wife, she being so small, I delighted much in her. Her father died before she was born, and she had no portion given her by him, but I have promised to give her twenty pounds.

"This above written was taken upon oath before me,
MILFORD, August 10, 1674.

ROBERT TRACY."

I notice on the Milford Records, that Samuel Buckingham, son of Thomas Buckingham, was married to Sarah Baldwin, daughter of Timothy Baldwin, of Milford, December 14, 1668.

WILLIAM WHITING.

WILLIAM WHITING, one of the early settlers of Hartford, is mentioned in the histories of this country as early as 1632 or 3. Between 1631 and 1633, "The Bristol men had sold their interest in Piscataqua, to the Lords Say and Brooke, George Wylls and William Whiting, who continued Thomas Wiggin their agent, &c." Mr. Whiting retained his interest in Piscataqua till his death.

He was "one of the most respectable of the settlers in 1636"—"one of the civil and religious Fathers of Connecticut," a man of wealth and education, styled in the records "William Whiting, Gentleman." In 1642 he was chosen one of the Magistrates; 1641, Treasurer of the Colony, which office he retained till his death. In 1646 "a plot was laid by Sequasson, Sachem of the Naticks, to kill Governors Haynes and Hopkins and Mr. Whiting, on account of the just and faithful protection which these gentlemen had afforded to Uncas. The plot was made known by a friendly Indian and the danger averted."

He bore the title of Major in 1647.

William Whiting died July, 1647.*

[His widow, Susannah, married, 1650, Mr. Samuel Fitch, of Hartford, by whom she had two sons. Mr. Fitch died 1659, and she married 3. Mr. Alexander Bryan, of Milford. She died at Middletown, at the house of her daughter, Mrs. Collins, and was buried there July 8, 1673.]

DESCENDANTS IN THE LINE OF WILLIAM WHITING, SON OF WILLIAM WHITING.

SECOND GENERATION.

I.

WILLIAM WHITING, eldest son of William Whiting, was probably born in England, before his parents came to this country. He went to England, and was a merchant in London where he died in 1699. His son Joseph was appointed administrator of his estate. In 1686 the Assembly of Connecticut appointed him their "agent to present their petition (in reference to the Charter) to the King." He exerted himself in behalf of the colony and received the thanks of the Assembly for his services, and was requested to continue them.

DESCENDANTS IN THE LINE OF JOHN WHITING, SON OF WILLIAM WHITING.

SECOND GENERATION.

II.

JOHN WHITING, second son of William Whiting, was born 1635; graduated at Harvard College, 1653; preached several years in Salem, Mass. He was there in 1659, March 8, when "the selectmen, together with the deacons and Mr. Gedney, are desired to treat with Mr. Whiting to know his mind about staying with us." [Salem Town Records.] He removed with his family "from the Bay" to Hartford, and was ordained over the First Church in 1660. In 1669, in consequence of the discussions which agitated the church at that time, Mr. Whiting and others presented a petition to the Assembly "for their approbation, for a distinct walking in Congregational Church Order," which was granted, and in 1670, a new Church was formed, of which Mr. Whiting was chosen pastor, and so continued till his death, September 8th, 1689.

Rev. John Whiting was twice married. 1. To Sybil Collins, daughter of Deacon Edward Collins, of Cambridge, Mass., by whom he had 7 children. 2. In 1673, to Phebe Gregson, daughter of Thomas Gregson, of New Haven, (who was lost at sea, 1646, in the Phantom ship.) She was born 1643. Died September 19, 1730. [She married again, 1692, Rev. TO THE

CONNECTICUT HISTORICAL SOCIETY,

AND TO THE

DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS OLCOTT,

DWELLING IN THE VARIOUS PARTS OF OUR WIDE SPREAD COUNTRY,

THESE PAGES ARE

RESPECTFULLY INSCRIBED.

P R E F A C E .

THOMAS OLCOTT, whose descendants in the male line, to and including the seventh generation,—in the female line, to and including the third generation; and in the lines of the female branches from the male lines, to and including the children of each of the first of said branches, are traced in the following pages, was among the first settlers of the town of Hartford, and one of the founders of the trade and commerce of the Colony of Connecticut. From what part of England he emigrated, or what year he arrived in this country, is not ascertained. There is reason to believe he was one of the “goodly company” of men, women and children, who, in June, 1635, left Newtown, (now Cambridge,) and other settlements on the sea board of Massachusetts, to plant a new colony on “the delightful banks” of the Connecticut. Their route lay through the wilderness, in nearly the present direction of the Western Railroad, ’till they reached the mouth of Chicopee river, and hence down the banks of the Connecticut, to the spot where in the autumn before, the settlement of what is now Hartford, but then called Suckiauge, was commenced. Through the agencies which that company, and others similarly constituted, embraced,—from the seed, peculiar and precious, which they scattered over the bosom of the wilderness,—what a change has been wrought in the country which they traversed, and in the spot where they rested from their pilgrimage, only to enter upon the severer, ever recurring toils and trials of a pioneer life! The forests whose tangled depths they penetrated by day with slow and toilsome progress, and in whose shadow they rested by night, with savage beasts and more savage men, have given place to the cultivated fields, orchards, homesteads and prosperous villages of civilized man. The streams which they forded, and the swamps which they crossed with so much risk and difficulty, are now spanned by arches of stone or bridges of iron. Avenues of communication now stretch across hills and valleys, which they passed with weary footsteps, so that the traveller between the extremes of their journey can now glide as on the wings of the wind, without fatigue, in less than one third the number of hours, that it took them days and nights to accomplish. And over the meadows and uplands, the waters and forests of their early settlement, a change no less wonderful and beneficent has passed. The rude tillage and rude wigwam, the simple canoe and wandering habits of the savage, have given place to the triumphs of agriculture, commerce, and the arts; to free institutions of government,—to the blessings of religion, education and christian charity—to all the fruits of an advanced and advancing civilization. Principles and institutions for which the best blood of Europe has been shed, and shed in vain, were acknowledged here in the outset of our history, and sprang up from seed sown by our fathers. We may well be proud of such an ancestry. These rich blessings, individual, social and civil, which we are now enjoying, are not the results of happy accident—they are the legitimate fruits of the character, the lives, and the teachings of the first settlers of our state. These settlers came here under the guidance of men of pure and fervent piety; of elevated social position and learning in their own country; of large estates, and larger hearts. They came here already gathered into families, with all the pledges and ties which that relation alone can give and inspire. They were all men of religious principles, at a period when to hold fast to religious opinions cost something—even banishment from home, and the trials of life on the ocean and in the wilderness. They were men of varied capacities of usefulness. There were divines, the seal of whose ministry was on the souls they had saved. There were magistrates trained to varied offices of state, and ripe for the highest official trusts at home, if they had chosen to remain there. There were men skilled in the practical pursuits of agriculture, commerce and mechanic arts. Once here, each seemed to find his appropriate sphere of useful labor, and all conspired together with one mind and one heart, to convert the wilderness into the happy homes of civilized man; and as the crowning glory of such homes, there were among them women of education, prudence, and piety, fit to be the wives of such men, and the mothers of a noble race.

Mr. Olcott had been educated in Europe a merchant, and brought with him the experience and fruits of successful enterprise. In common with Edward Hopkins, Richard Lord, William Whiting and others, he engaged in trade, for which the Connecticut was supposed to afford great facilities, especially in the traffic in furs. The following contract of Mr. Olcott, is taken from the early records of the Colony, on which, by early laws, such agreements were ordered to be recorded.

This Bill Byndeth me Thomas Olcott, of Hartford, in New England, to pay or cause to be paid unto Mr. Jacob Hayes, of Manators, the sum of six thousand eight hundred and sixty pounds of good Virginiah Tobaccko, such as Dutchmen do take, sometime in December next, in some convenient places either at Nansemond or Newborts Newes, and in witness whereof I have set my hand, (the said Thomas Olcott is to allowe halfe the casck and the said Jacob Hayes is to pay for the other half,) this 19th of July, 1650.

Witness.

THOMAS OLCOTT.

RICHARD LORD.

BRAY ROSSETER.

Vera Copia: Pr: JOHN CULLICK.

The following document, found also on the Colony Records, is copied in this connection, mainly because, being signed by Mr. Olcott, it enables us to give his autograph, and settle the orthography of his name, which is sometimes wrongly spelt with an A instead of an O.

APRIL 22th, 1650.

Whereas Mr. Thomas Olcott of Hartford, doth attache pt. of the Estate of William Cross, of Fairfield to the value of 60 pounds sterling, the said Mr. Olcott doth acknowledge himself bound to this Commonwealth in a rezognizance of one hundred pounds sterling that he will prosecute the action agt. the said Cross at the next particular Court to be held in Hartford which will be upon the 15th day of the next month, and satisfie all damage in case he makes not his plea good.

Thomas Olcott

Mr. Olcott first located himself on a lot on the east side of the Public (now State House) Square, on which the American Hotel now stands. He subsequently became the purchaser of one of the lots assigned to Edward Hopkins in the original distribution of the town among the first settlers. This lot comprised the whole square fronting on Main street, and bounded by Pearl, Trumbull and Asylum streets. On the southeast corner he erected a dwelling for his own occupation, which continued in the possession of his family for several generations. It is known to many now living as the "Nevens House" (the wing on the South having been added by Mr. Robert Nevins) and was demolished in 1824 to make room for the large block known as Union Hall. This house lot of Mr. Olcott, which together with his own and another dwelling house that stood thereon, was appraised at sixty pounds, at the time of his death, is now worth one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. It is now covered by the Phoenix Bank, blocks of stores and other buildings, of an aggregate value of not less than the value of the land. The old well in the rear of Union Hall was excavated by Mr. Olcott as an appurtenance to his house.

Mr. Olcott died in 1654, aged about forty-five years, leaving a widow, three sons and two daughters. He disposed of his property by will, the original of which cannot be found amongst the ancient papers of the Probate Office, nor is there any copy on record. The tenor of the will appears from a written agreement, entered into by and between his widow (who with his son Thomas, was made joint executor,) and the children, respecting a distribution in part of the estates, which is on record.

The inventory of the estate is a curious document, as throwing light on the means, and domestic arrangement of one of the principal families of the town, within twenty years of its first settlement.

An Inventory of houses, lands, goodes, chattells, debts of Tho : Olcott, deceased, as at the present yt. appears to us whose names are subscribed to ye. sd. Inventory, this 13th Febr. 1654.

In addition to the property above inventoried, there were divers tracts of land situated in Hartford and Wethersfield, which passed into the hands of the sons immediately on the decease of Mr. Olcott, probably by provisions in his will, which cannot now be found.

Mrs. Olcott,* by the death of her husband, was left with the man-

* NOTE. In the absence of all positive evidence as to the maiden name of Mrs. Olcott, or the place of her residence in England, it may be safe to conjecture that she was a Porter from London, from the following circumstance. On the death of Mr. David Porter, of London, who was drowned in the river, while on a visit to his friends in the colony, administration was granted to Mrs. Olcott, as appears from the following entry on the records of the county court.

At a County Court, December 5, 1678, held at Hartford.

An Inventory of the Estate of David Porter, of London, was exhibited in Court, and oath made by Mr. Thomas Olcott that there was a true presentment of the estate of the deceased to the appraisers; and if more come to hand, he will cause it to be added to the Inventory; and the Court granted administration on the Estate to Mrs. Abigail Olcott to pay the just debts and to reserve the remainder of the estate in her hands till his mother or brother shall order the dispose of it, or send for it:—it being granted to them by the Court, they being next of kin to the deceased.

The following quaint exhibit of expenses attending the funeral of Mr. Porter, shows that a custom more honored in the breach than in the observance, then prevailed in the colony.

agement of a large estate, and the cares of the family, to which she seemed fully equal. From the records of the towns of Hartford, Wethersfield and Windsor, in this colony, and of Springfield in Massachusetts, she appears to have carried on the business of her husband like one "to the manner born." She bought, let, and sold lands, loaned money on mortgage security, made contracts for delivering goods, and like the virtuous woman described by Solomon, "she perceiveth that her merchandise was good"; "she layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff"; "she looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness"; HER OWN WORKS PRAISETH HER IN THE GATES." She died May 26, 1693, aged 78 years, leaving a will of which the following is a copy.

I, Abigail Olcott, of Hartford, being at present of good understanding and memory, blessed be God, do consider that I am aged, and the shadows of the evening are come upon me, and therefore, the counsel of the Prophet,—"Set thy house in order," is very seasonable for me. In obedience thereto, first, I do commit my soul to God in Jesus Christ, trusting through his mercy, my sins are washed away in his blood, and that through his righteousness, I shall be accepted of the Father, and obtain a glorious resurrection;—and my body I commit to the earth, to be buried in a comely decent manner, in the common burying place. And for that estate the Lord hath blessed me with, after my just debts and funeral charges are contented and paid, I do give and bequeath the same as followeth. I have formerly given my son Thomas, a piece of gold, I give my son John, a ten shilling piece of gold, and to my son Samuel and daughter Elizabeth Hyde, I give my biggest piece of gold, to be divided between them. I also, give to my daughter Hyde, my two black gowns, my mohair petticoat, my silk cloak, my wearing linen, a dozen diaper napkins and a dozen of holland napkins; and to my daughter-in-law, Sarah, I give my cloth gown, cloth petticoat and serge cloak. It is my will that the fifty pounds I gave to Thomas and Mary, my grand-children, by a former writing, shall be paid out of such debts as are due to me. And the rest of my estate, both real and personal, I give and bequeath the same, to my sons, Thomas, Samuel and John, and my daughter, Elizabeth Hyde, to be divided equally to them, except my son John, who is to have a double share, the rest of my children having formerly received from me considerable. And what I give to my children, I give it to them and the heirs of their bodies now living,—save only that which I give to my son John by this will, is to him and his heirs forever. Finally, I do, in the fear of God, command my children to know, fear and serve the God of their father, that so the blessing of the covenant may be their portion when I shall be gathered to my fathers; and desire, that they may live in love and peace one with another, that the God of love and peace may bless them.

I do hereby renounce and make null all former wills by me made, by word or writing, and declare this to be my last will and testament, and do constitute and appoint my beloved sons Thomas and John Olcott to be Executors thereof. And if any difference should arise about the distribution of my Estate, amongst my children, I wholly refer the determination thereof to my loving friends Col. John Allyn and Doctor Thomas Hooker, to whom I refer my children for to take advice and counsel in any thing that shall arise of difficulty in their affairs. And for the confirmation hereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix my seal, this 12th day of January, 1692.

ABIGAIL OLCOTT. L. S.

Signed, sealed and declared in the presence and witness of

The following article is likewise found on the Colony Records, and is copied as showing Mrs. Olcott's method of doing business. By this writing, it would appear that Mrs. Olcott had made a loan to "Mr. Roger Nuton," (Rev. Roger Newton,* first minister of Farmington;) and that when payment was offered, the evidence of the debt could not be found, but that she received the money, and gave this writing as a testimony that the debt had been paid.

These p^{re}sents Testifieth, that I, Abigail Olcott, of Hartford, in ye jurisdiction of Connecticut, doe acknowledg myself to be fully satisfied for y^e remaining part of a Bill of 25£ that was to be payd to me by Mr. Roger Nuton, and have I say, received full satisfaction from Wm : Lewis, Jun. for what he was to pay of it, and likewise acquit Mr. Roger Nuton and Wm. Lewis both of any further demands about that bill, and if I finde it, to returne y^e bill to one of them,—as witness my hand this 29th of March, 1660.

ABIGAIL OLCOTT.

Vera Copia. John Allyn, Secr^y.

The sons of Mr. Olcott continued to reside in Hartford, as farmers, and were all gentlemen of consideration in the colony. On the 20th of May, 1658, Thomas Olcott, and on the 12th of the same month, 1664, Samuel Olcott, took the oath of allegiance to the colony, on being admitted as freemen, as prescribed by the General Court April 6, 1640. In this oath there is not the slightest recognition of the authority of Parliament, nor indeed is there any thing in the laws of the colony, which would imply that Connecticut was any thing less than a "free, sovereign and independent state."

* Rev. Roger Newton here referred to, afterwards went to Milford, (Con.) and his place was filled at Farmington, by Mr. Samuel Hooker, son of Rev. Thomas Hooker, first minister of Hartford. The following transcript from the account book of William Pynchon, one of the first settlers of Springfield, (Mass.) and the first signer of the Plantation Covenant of that town, shows the liberal contributions which individuals were willing to make for the support of the gospel ministry, even in towns distant from their own residence. The entry is in the hand writing of John Pynchon, the son, and the original document in the possession of the Hon. Oliver B. Morris, of Springfield.

I, A. B., being by the Providence of God an inhabitant within the jurisdiction of Connecticut, do acknowledge myself to be subject to the government thereof, and do swear by the great and fearful name of the everlasting God, to be true and faithful unto the same, and do submit both my person and estate thereunto, according to all the wholesome laws and orders that there are or hereafter shall be there made and established by lawful authority, and that I will neither plot nor practice any evil against the same nor consent to any that shall so do, but will timely discover the same to lawful authority there established; and that I will, as I am in duty bound, maintain the honor of the same and of the lawful magistrates thereof, promoting the public good thereof whilst I shall continue an inhabitant there; and whenever I shall give my vote or suffrage touching any matter which concerns this Commonwealth, being called thereunto, will give it as in my conscience I shall judge may conduce to the best good of the same, without respect of persons, or favor of any man. So help me God, in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Mr. Olcott, with his wife and sons, (except Thomas,* whose grave is in Manchester,) was buried in the public burying-ground in the rear of the Centre Congregational Church, where repose together most of the first settlers of Hartford, and their immediate descendants. There, in the heart of the city—in the midst of the fruits and the monuments of their wise, patriotic and pious labors—of comfortable dwellings, busy work-shops, thronged channels of commerce, halls of education and science, Asylums, Retreats and Temples of Religion and christian charity—

"There rest the great and good—there they repose
After their generous toil. A sacred band,
They take their sleep together.
Theirs is no vulgar sepulchre—and the pride
With which their children tread the hallowed ground
That holds their venerated bones, the peace
That smiles on all they toiled for, and the wealth
That clothes the city where the forest waved,
Are monuments more lasting than the fanes
Reared to the kings and demi-gods of old."

Within a few years past, additional security and attraction has been thrown around this consecrated spot by James B. Hosmer, Richard Bigelow and others, under the name of the "Hartford Ancient Bury-

* Thomas Olcott, in his old age, went to reside with his son Thomas, at Hop Brook, then known as the "Hartford five miles," and now within the limits of Manchester, as appears from the following memorandum found in the account book of the son, and which is still in the possession of Mr. Sidney Olcott, now dwelling on the original plantation.

"My honored Father, Thomas Olcott, came to live with me at Hop Brook, November 3, 1713."

ing Ground Association." Principally under the judicious direction and oversight of Mr. Hosmer, broken grave-stones and slabs have been repaired, and the fallen restored; inscriptions which time was slowly obliterating, have been chiseled deeper; graveled walks have been laid out with great taste through the grounds, and appropriate trees and shrubbery have been planted, and now throw their protecting shadows and beauty over the graves of the dead. In the centre of the lot, a simple but massive shaft of stone has been erected, and on it are inscribed the names of Haynes, Hooker, Hopkins, Olcott,* Stone, Webster, Welles, and others of the first settlers of Hartford; while from all around a voice seems to speak to every heart, quickened by the remembrance of their sacrifices, their public spirit and their piety:—

“Our God is thy God—what He Willeth, is best,
Trust him as we trusted,
Then rest as we rest.”

DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS OLCOTT, SON OF THOMAS OLCOTT,
THE SETTLER.

THIRD GENERATION.

THOMAS OLCOTT, of Hartford, son of Thomas Olcott, of the same town, was married to a lady whose christian name was Mary, but whose family name I have been unable to ascertain.

Of the time of the decease of Mr. Olcott, I find no record,—that he lived to advanced age, and until the year 1719, appears by the land records of said town, wherein is recorded a deed of land from him to his son, Thomas Olcott, Jun., dated February 14, 1719.

Mrs. Mary Olcott, his widow, died on the 3d of May, 1721, at Windsor, (Con.) as appears by a record on the books in the office of the clerk of that town.

Children.

- 6 Abigail, died at Springfield, (Mass.) being on a visit to family friends, at that place, March 14, 1688.
- 7 Mary.
- 8 Thomas.
- 9 Samuel, died May 10, 1696.
- 10 John, drowned in the river with another lad, Nathaniel Reeve, by their own adventuring to wash or swim, May 23, 1685.
- 11 Timothy, born in 1677.

FOURTH GENERATION.

THOMAS OLCOTT, of Hartford, son of Thomas Olcott, of said town, was married to Sarah Foote, daughter of Nathaniel Foote, of Wethersfield, (Con.) by Capt. John Chester, Commissioner, November, 1691.

Mr. Thomas Olcott died—(date of his decease unknown.)

Mrs. Sarah Olcott, his widow, died July 24, 1756, in the 86th year of her age.

Children.

- 12 Abigail, born August 4, 1692. Baptized May 7, 1693. Died August 17, 1710.
- 13 Sarah, born December 12, 1694.
- 14 Mary, born November 21, 1696. Baptized April 23, 1699.

- 17 Josiah, born March 2, 1703.
- 18 Margaret, born April 12, 1705.
- 19 Hannah, born August 4, 1707.
- 20 Elizabeth, born November 17, 1709.
- 21 A child, born in 1712. Died in infancy.
- 22 Thomas, born (month illegible in the record,) 20, 1713.

TIMOTHY OLCOTT, of Coventry, (Con.) but afterwards of Bolton, (Con.) son of Thomas Olcott, of Hartford, was thrice married.

1st. To a lady whose family name has not been ascertained.

2d. To Mary Field, widow of Ebenezer Field, late of East-Guilford, (Con.) deceased, the great-grandfather of the Rev. Doctor David Field, pastor of the Congregational church, of East Haddam, (Con.) and daughter of Mr. Ebenezer Dudley, late of said East-Guilford, dec.

3d. To a lady whose christian name was Elizabeth, but whose family name it has hitherto, been found impracticable to ascertain.

Mrs. Mary Olcott, wife of Deacon Timothy Olcott, died April 20, 1740, in the 63d year of her age.

Deacon Timothy Olcott, died April 5, 1754, in the 77th year of his age.

Mrs. Elizabeth Olcott, widow of Deacon Timothy Olcott, died August 29, 1674, of palsy.

By his first wife, Deacon Olcott had children,—

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN OLCOTT, SON OF THOMAS OLCOTT, THE SETTLER.

THIRD GENERATION.

3.

JOHN OLCOTT, of Hartford, (Con.) son of Thomas Olcott, the Settler, was married to Mary Welles, widow of Thomas Welles, late of said Hartford, dec., a grandson of Thomas Welles, one of the first settlers of said town, in the line of his son Thomas, in 1695. She was the daughter, by his second wife, of John Black-leach, Jun., of said Hartford, merchant, who died September 9, 1703, aged 77. By her first husband she had children, Thomas, born October 16, 1690, and John, born December 15, 1693.

Mr. John Olcott died in 1712.

Children.

- 690 Samuel, born August 16, 1696. Baptized August 23, 1696. Did not marry. Died in 1717.
 691 Mary, born August 1, 1698. Baptized August 7, 1698.
 692 Rachel, born October 28, 1701.
 693 Abigail, born February 15, 1704.

The male line of John Olcott became extinct on the death of his son Samuel.

Mrs. Mary Olcott, alias Welles, survived her second husband, and was married a third time, viz : to Capt. Joseph Wadsworth, celebrated in history as the chief actor in the fearful scene respecting the Charter of the Colony, in the time of Sir Edmund Andros.

It is worthy of remark, that Mr. John Olcott and Capt. Joseph Wadsworth, the second and third husbands of this lady, were the appraisers of the Estate of her first husband.

Capt. Joseph Wadsworth was the son of William Wadsworth, one of the first settlers of Hartford, by his second wife, Elizabeth, the sister of the Rev. Samuel Stone, one of said settlers, and successor in the ministry to the Rev. Thomas Hooker, the first minister of Hartford. William Wadsworth is the ancestor of Daniel Wadsworth, Esqr. of this city,—of the Messrs. Wadsworth, of Geneseo, (New-York,) and of most, if not all those persons, who bear his name in this country. Capt. Joseph Wadsworth died in 1731. From an affidavit of his, appended to an inventory of the estate of Thomas Stoughton, of Windsor, (who married his sister,) dated March 6, 1686, he was, at that time, 36 years of age, which would give 1650, as the year of his birth, and make him 81 years of age at the time of his death.

Capt. Joseph Wadsworth's first wife was Elizabeth, the daughter of Bartholomew Barnard, of Hartford. She died October 26, 1710. His second wife, Mary Wadsworth, alias Olcott, alias Welles, survived him.

FOURTH GENERATION.

691.

MARY OLCOTT, daughter of John Olcott, of Hartford, (Con.) married Joseph Farnsworth, of said Hartford.

- 712 James, baptized May 19, 1745.

DESCENDANTS OF ELIZABETH OLCOTT, DAUGHTER OF THOMAS OLCOTT, THE SETTLER.

THIRD GENERATION.

4.

ELIZABETH OLCOTT, daughter of Thomas Olcott, the Settler, married Timothy Hyde, of Hartford, (Con.).

I have found no record of the death either of Mr. Timothy Hyde, or his wife.

Child,—one only.

- 713 Timothy, who never married. He died May 28, 1710. By his last will, (which is dated April 7, 1710,) he gives to his loving uncles Thomas and John Olcott, all the Estate which descended to him, in right of his mother, from the Estate of his grandfather, Thomas Olcott, the Settler; and to his loving uncle and aunt, Mr. Caleb Watson and Mrs. Mary Watson, his wife, all the Estate that he himself had acquired. Mr. Caleb Watson was born in Roxbury, (Mass.) in June, 1641, graduated at Harvard College in 1661, and was subsequently, for several years, an instructor of youth in Hartford.

APPENDIX.

The Indian name of Hartford was Suckiauge. The settlers first named it Newtown, from the place of their residence in Massachusetts; but in February, 1637, they gave it the present name of Hartford. The place was originally purchased by Mr. Stone and Mr. William Goodwin, of Sunckquasson, the Indian chief and proprietor of the soil, who afterwards renewed the sale to John Haynes, and others, and enlarged the boundaries of his grant. The original deeds were lost or carried away, and were renewed by the heirs and successors of Sunckquasson, in 1670. The following is a true copy, from the records of the last

RENEWAL DEED.

"Whereas our predecessor Sunckquasson, sachem of Suckiauge, alias Hartford, did about the yeare sixteen hundred thirty six, by a writeing under his hand, pass over unto Mr. Samuel Stone and Mr. Wm. Goodwin, in the behalfe of the present proprietors and owners of the lands belonging to the township of Hartford, all that part of his country from a tree marked N. F. which is the dividient between Hartford and Wethersfield—we say from the afoarsayd tree on the south, till it meet with Windsor bounds on the north, and from the great river on the east, the whole bredth to run into the wilderness towards the west full six miles, which is to the place where Hartford and Farmington bounds meet; which grant of Sunckquasson, as occasion hath been, was by him renewed to the honoured John Haines, Esqr. and other the first magistrates of this place, and enlarged to the westward so far as his country went; which enlargement as well as his former grant was made in presence of many of the natives of the place and English inhabitants; and severall yeares after, about the time of the planting of Farmington in the yeare one thousand six hundred and forty, in a writeing made between the English and Pethus the sachem or gentleman of that place, there is a full mention of the afoarsayd Sunckquasson his grant of his country to the magistrates of this place, which grant we are privy too; and we being the onely successors of Sunckquasson and proprietors (before the forementioned sale) of the lands belonging to the township of Hartford on the west side of the great river, being desired to confirm and pass over all our right and interest in the afoarsayd lands to the present possessors of them, they informeing us that those writeings made by Sunckquasson before recited are at present out of the way, knowing what our predecessor hath done, and what consideration he hath received for the same,—

We, Masseeckcup and William squa in behalf of ourselves and Wawarme the sister and onely heire of Sunckquasson, and Keepequam, Seacutt, Jack Spiner, Currecombe, Wehassatuck squa and Seacuncck squa, the onely inhabitants that are surviveing of the afoarsayd lands, doe by these presents owne, acknowledge and declare, that Sunckquasson whose was the sachem of Suckiauge alias Hartford, and grand proprietor of the lands adjacent, did with the consent of those of us whose were of age to declare our consent, and with the consent of the rest of the inhabitants of this place, about the year 1636, pass over unto Mr. Samuel Stone and Mr. Wm. Goodwine, in behalfe and for the use of themselves and their company, all the land from Wethersfield bounds on the south, to Windsor bounds on the north, and the whole bredth from Connecticutt river on the east six large miles into the wilderness on the west, which sayd grant was afterwards upon further consideration renewed and enlarged by the sayd Sunckquasson, upon the desire of the honoured Mr. Haines and the rest of the magistrates of this place: but we being informed that on the removeall of some of the gentlemen afoarmentioned, the papers and writeings before specified are out of the way, and haveing now received of Mr. Samuel Willys, Capt. John Talcott, Mr. John Allyn and Mr. James Richards, a farther grattification of near the value the land was esteemed at before the English came into these parts—to prevent all further trouble between ourselves and the inhabitants of Hartford, we the sayd Masseeckcup, Wm squa as afoarsayd, and Seacutt, Keepequam, Jack Spiner, Currecombe, Wehassatuck squa and Seacuncck squa, upon the consideration forementioned, by these presents have and doe fully, clearly and absolutely give, grant, bargain, sell, alien, enfeoffe and confirme unto Mr. Samuel Willys, Capt.
