Testimony:

Time is money,
so you think I'm rich Twenty years in and not much to show for it

But I've made millions for strangers whose names I don't know While my family invests and the money stays low

Inmate numbers are accounts Goods that keep on producing Our sentences are bank statements Wealth for generations, not my own

I'm 46 and my lifetime's unknown,
But there will come a day for prison's bankruptcy just like my own.
